DE LANCEY TO BASE DEFENSE ON STATE'S CASE

Lawyers Have Not Outlined Any Plans and Will Wait for Testimony

NO WITNESSES CALLED ON DEFENDANT'S SIDE

Will Make Defense According to Evidence Against Accused Attorney

It developed this forenoon during the trial of Attorney John S. De Lancey in the criminal department of the Superior Court that as yet the accused lawyer's counsel has arrived at no decision with reference to the nature of the defense they will set up in behalf of their client.

No witnesses for De Lancey have been subpoenaed and from the best information to be had, the attorneys have not seriously outlined their client's case.

This indicates that they are waiting for the prosecution to get in its case with a view to attacking it and defeating it on the very showing the State makes. In other words, the defense is proceeding on the theory that it will be able to clear De Lancey by resting his case absolutely upon the State's testimony, either by securing a court instruction for acquittal on the ground that the prosecution's testimony is not sufficient to warrant conviction or showing to the jury that the State has failed to prove its case against defendant.

The morning session was devoid of unusual interest. Former Public Administrator Gray was on the stand all forenoon under direct examination with the likelihood that the State would not finish with him before late this evening, if then.

PROBES BUSINESS RELATIONS.

Taking up the trial of former Public Administrator George Gray's examination, he was dropped at the adjournment hour last evening. Assistant District Attorney Hines this morning delved deeper into the business relations between De Lancey and Gray, during the period that the accused lawyer was his legal representative and had charge of the affairs of the public administrator's office.

With reference to the alleged falsified semi-annual report of December 31, 1908, Hines asked Gray to state whether or not he signed the document in his office, when De Lancey said it was correct, by having it signed by him at his home in Hayward in the presence of a notary. Gray said he could not state positively that it was not he who signed it at the time he signed it that it was correct. He had had several conversations with De Lancey about the report while it was being prepared, but whether the question of its correctness ever came up he could not say for certain.

The record of the trial shows that De Lancey kept an office with reference to the case. Hines this morning with reference to the case. Hines this morning with reference to the case. Hines this morning with reference to the case.

COMPARATIVE ENTRIES.

Gray's entries in the book called to the attention of the jury. The entries showed that De Lancey had been in the office of the public administrator, also an entry of $1000 in the handwriting of De Lancey.

The State's attorney in the comparison was to show the jury that the entries in the book were in the handwriting of De Lancey.

Hines — "Did you at any time authorize anyone to make copies or alterations in the accounts of the George H. Cook or C. Arnold entries or in any other part of this book?"

Gray — "No, sir."

Hines — "Up to what time did you continue to have deposits in the banks as public administrator?"

Gray — "Up to sometime last December."

Hines — "Where did you deposit the money then?"

Gray — "With the county treasurer."

ADVISED BY DE LANCEY.

Witness said that when the Superior Court ordered him to pay the funds over to the county treasurer, De Lancey told him that the order was illegal and advised him against complying. Hines then told De Lancey that the money would have to be turned over. Defendant then advised him to turn over the money that the court had ordered.

HENEY IS LOSING GROUND AND WILL BE BEATEN

SAN FRANCISCO, October 28.—The last week of the campaign sees the crumbling of the Leland humbug and a desperate fight between Crocker and McCarthy for the Mayoralty. Nobody regards Leland as a possibility, and the majority now understand that he has never been anything more than a decoy. But the effort to split the Republican vote with him has proved an utter failure. The "independent movement" in behalf of Leland is recognized by everybody as a fake, a playful diversion of the astute and shifty Democratic boss who is mixing things as much as possible in the hope of electing Dolan for Sheriff and a majority of the Board of Supervisors.

Storm of Vituperation

During Portola week gaiety and good feeling rose above the stress and bitterness of political contention, but with the passing of Don Gaspar and his celebration has come a storm of vituperation. The Heney orators have exhausted the resources of abjuration in their denunciation of Fickert and all who support him. Apparently all of them graduated with high honors in the fish market school of eloquence. Virtually Heney stigmatizes as a crook every citizen who refuses to vote for him.

Heney Losing Strength

But with all the fury of their denunciation of Fickert and his supporters, Heney is not gaining ground. Appearances indicate that he is losing strength, and unless all signs are at fault he will be defeated by a large majority. Fickert makes a good impression wherever he goes, and the frank statement he makes of his position appeals strongly to fair-minded men. The shower of epithets and personal abuse coming to him from the Heney people only make him friends and disgusts the public still more with the Heney method of lying, reviling and defamation for political effect.

Burns Has Not Made Good

Burns has not made good in this fight. He has not pulled off any big sensation during the campaign, and if he has tried to frame any of his usual spectacular diversions he has made a complete failure. His effort to trap Fickert with the bait of a big fee from the redlight district was a transparent trick that only a ninny would fall to.

Flooding the Union Labor districts with bogus Fickert cards without the union label proved a vain expedient. It was promptly exposed and denounced by the labor people themselves, and hence became a boomerang.

Gumshoe Men at Work

Burns has been working among the women and the preachers where his statements cannot be challenged or published, and may have made some headway. But in every other direction he has lost. The efforts of gumshoe men in the pay of Spreckels or the city to disturb Fickert meetings and embarrass Heney's opponent by noisy interruptions and insulting questions have not made votes for Heney, but have left sore spots on the heads of some of the intruding agents.

All the betting money is on the Fickert side, and while the Heney partisans profess to be confident they ask odds when it comes to putting money on the result.

McCarthy May Win

All the "wise" men of the push are predicting McCarthy's election, but Crocker's campaign managers say the millman has a cinch. They say the noisy vote is for McCarthy, but that the quiet vote is for Crocker. They assert that Crocker cannot be defeated unless an unexpectedly large Republican vote should be cast for Leland, which is something they do not apprehend, as the word has been passed up and down the streets that Leland has no chance and is a rank outsider in the betting.

The managers of both McCarthy and Crocker regard Leland as a negligible quantity, though some of McCarthy's supporters have been boosting the sham independent movement in the hope of drawing votes from the Republican candidate.

Fight for County Clerk

The fight for County Clerk is between Harry Mulcrevy and John J. Grief with chances slightly in favor of the former. The Sheriff's fight promises to be a close finish between three strong men.

Apparently Eggers has a shade the best of it for betting choice, but Dolan, the incumbent and Democratic nominee, is putting up a strong fight. Tom Finn, the Union Labor nominee, is popular and active, and has an excellent chance if McCarthy is elected.

Druggist, His Wife and Friend Have Been Lost in Mountains

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—Eight weeks ago Edwin Wolpach, a druggist, with his wife and Jesse E. Thornton, a live-stock dealer, started for Bishop, Inyo County, for a pleasure trip in the Sierra Nevada mountains. Since then not a word has come from them and it is feared that the three have perished in a storm or met death along the precipitous of the rugged heights.

Thornton's brother, owner of the ranch, the missing trio intended to visit, and the druggist's company, by which the

COLLEGE-BRED WOMEN LEAD IN REARING CHILDREN

Statistics Show They Bring Up Larger Families Than Their Sisters

MARRY LATER IN LIFE HIGHER CLASS OF MAN

Miss M. Cary Thomas Gives Some Interesting Facts to Collegiate Alumnae

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 28.—The college woman is the better equipped to serve in the home, and for the uplifting of humanity, according to the consensus of opinion shown in the discussions of the annual convention of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae in session here.

This organization is composed entirely of college women from all parts of the country, who are graduates of the twenty-four leading colleges.

AS TO MARRIAGE.

Miss M. Cary Thomas, president of the Bryn Mawr College, chairman of a committee that has taken statistics on college women in the United States, reports that when men and women are educated together there is no greater number of marriages than when the sexes are educated separately.

As to bearing children, Miss Thomas declared that college women had 3.50 children, while non-college women had 3.50, so college women were in the lead slightly, although they married later in life than women who never attended college.

GIVES STATISTICS.

Miss Thomas says that 778 out of 1000 college women enjoy excellent health; only eight college women out of 1000 have physical defects. The health of college women in general is better than that of women who do not attend college; that college women marry stronger men and choose more wisely, selecting men above the average; that one-third of the husbands of college women have higher salaries on the average than the husbands of women who have never attended college.

Lovett, Late E. H. Harriman's Legal Adviser, Is Elected Head of the Southern Pacific

President Lovett of Southern Pacific

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Robert S. Lovett was elected today president of the Southern Pacific Company to succeed the late E. H. Harriman.

The directors elected William M. Mahl, comptroller of the Southern Pacific Company, as Vice-President to succeed Judge Lovett. Mr. Mahl was one of the board of directors, which was one of the most important which has been held in financial circles in many years, this morning, he stepped quietly into the office which was vacated by the great railroad wizard when death put an end to his fruitful career a few weeks ago.

JUDGE IS CHOSEN NEW PRESIDENT

Right-Hand Man of Dead Magnate Elected Chief of Railway

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Robert S. Lovett, for many years confidential friend and adviser of the late E. H. Harriman, was today elected president of the Southern Pacific Company. At the meeting of the board of directors, which was one of the most important which has been held in financial circles in many years, this morning, he stepped quietly into the office which was vacated by the great railroad wizard when death put an end to his fruitful career a few weeks ago.

Lovett, who is a man of stupendous executive ability, was always at the dead magnate's right hand during late years and was an important influence in the consummation of some of the largest railroad deals of late years.

MAHL SUCCEEDS LOVETT.

William M. Mahl, comptroller of the Southern Pacific, has been chosen to fill Judge Lovett's place as one of the vice-presidents of the road. He will take his place with John C. Stubbs, E. E. Calvin and Julius Kruttschnitt, who are vice-presidents.

Robert Scott Lovett, the man who now controls the destinies of the greatest combination of railroad lines that ever were operated, is 49 years of age. He was born in San Jacinto, Texas, on June 22, 1860, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lovett. His parents were farmers and they led the simple existence of the backwoods. The boy was denied the advantages of early education and when he became old enough went to work on the farm. He worked for his father and for neighbors. When he had attained his majority he had saved enough money and had advanced sufficiently far in his studies to make it possible for him to go to Houston to complete his work in a law course that he was pursuing.

ADMITTED TO BAR.

He passed the examinations and was admitted to the bar in 1882. Three years later he was attorney for the road, the rails of which he had helped lay through Texas.

He remained in this position for five years and then became assistant general attorney for the Texas and Pacific Railway Company, with offices at Dallas, Texas. He remained at this station two years and was then appointed general counsel for the road. He was then 31 years of age.

RIGHT HAND MAN.

It was on January 1, after some of the greatest legal work ever done in railroad extension in the west, that Harriman, realizing that in Judge Lovett there was a man in whom he could place strict reliance in the most important matters, had him appointed general attorney and counsel for all of the Southern Pacific lines. Shortly afterward, having established himself in New York, he was made general counsel for the entire Harriman system and was president of the Houston and Texas railroad, the road upon which he had labored when a boy.

LOVETT BECAME HARRIMAN'S RIGHT-HAND MAN.

The railroad king consulted him in all matters. He had the greatest confidence in the Texas, whose judgment helped to shape some of the greatest deals.

MONEY GONE, BUT SAFE IS STILL INTACT

Peoples Water Company in Berkeley Is Mourning a Big Loss of Money

NO CLUE TO ROBBERS BUT SUSPICION IS RIFE.

Gold and Bills in Receptacle When It Was Locked—Now They Are Gone

Unusual mystery of a baffling nature surrounds the burglary of $460 from the Berkeley branch office of the Peoples Water Company sometime between the closing of the office last evening and the opening of the place this morning.

The door of the heavy iron safe, where all money and papers are kept was found wide open, but the lock was not damaged in any particular. There was no evidence of violence anywhere in the office, which leads to the belief that the thief was thoroughly familiar with the premises and knew the combination of the safe.

ONLY CASH TAKEN.

Nothing but cash was taken, which will make tracing the guilty party a difficult matter. The office force consists of a resident manager, Cornelius D. Maloney, three office clerks and a number of outside collectors.

Maloney this morning professed to know nothing about the loss when first approached. He said he had not been to the office during the morning, and stated that if there had been a robbery he knew nothing of it. When pressed for information he referred inquiries to S. N. Marks, secretary for the company with offices in Oakland.

POLICE ON CASE.

During the noon hour Chief of Police Vollmer of Berkeley was asked over the phone by one of the employees of the company to make an investigation, but no details of the robbery were given.

Sergeant Lee is working on the case.

Lee advances the theory that the theft is due to carelessness on the part of some employee of the company, who left the safe open over night and is loath to admit it.

The officers say that in all probability the thief simply walked in, took the funds and departed, and that the negligent clerk is afraid to admit that he failed to lock the safe.

ITO'S SLAYER IS IDENTIFIED

HARBIN, Manchuria, Oct. 28.—The assassin of Prince Ito was identified today as Inchi Anagan, a former editor of a newspaper at Seoul.

He said that he was one of a regiment of twenty Koreans who had taken an oath that they would kill the Japanese statesman.

The assassin used dum dum bullets which had been poisoned with cyanide.

FAMILY SECRETS BARED IN FIGHT FOR GREAT ESTATE

Heirs of Marie Concepcion de Laveaga Flout Skeletons of Proud Castilian Line in Bitter Contest

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Mrs. Juan Cebrian, the opponent in the de Laveaga will contest, on trial before Probate Judge Coffey, was placed on the stand by Attorney E. B. Pillsbury, representing the contestant, this morning. Over the strenuous objection of Attorney Peter F. Dunne she was allowed to testify concerning letters sent by her to Miguel de Laveaga, who is contesting the will of his sister, Maria Concepcion de Laveaga.

LETTERS INTRODUCED.

The following two letters were introduced in evidence to show the alleged conduct of the deceased, and also incompetency of Maria Concepcion the respondent, about the time of her death. The first letter is to Miguel from Mrs. Cebrian, and translated from the Spanish reads in part as follows:

Do not take it badly if poor Maria does not write. She does not know how to write. If she had known she would not have concealed from you the state of sickness of Ignatia or have written through a serving man in her name on the day Ignatia died.

The second letter is to Miguel and Vincent de Laveaga, and reads:

By that which you feel for me, who has been taken from you, you may understand my grief for my beloved, my companion in sickness and whom I knew how to care for. She did not have me by her bedside in her last moments. This is terrible. How ungrateful were those who surrounded her not to call me and they tell me she, my soul, called for me. May God pardon them, I cannot, I cannot.

TRACE FAMILY HISTORY.

Mrs. Cebrian traced the family history from the time of the marriage of her father and mother, their moving to San Francisco and her trips to Europe and her staying with Ignatia and Maria Concepcion in Rome.

The entire de Laveaga family, including the litigants who are taking both sides of the litigation, were present in the court room. A great deal of interest is being taken in the contest and counsel on both sides are fighting every inch of the way.

BARE FAMILY SECRETS.

Family secrets, beginning with the rehearsal of a plot to abduct the late Maria Concepcion de Laveaga and marry her to a Spanish schemer, were aired in court yesterday afternoon.

The suit is brought by Miguel de Laveaga.

Trial of Patrick Calhoun Not to Be Resumed Until November 29

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The resumption of the trial of Patrick Calhoun, which was adjourned a month ago until after election, will be postponed until November 29 and perhaps even until after the Christmas holidays. Superior Judge Lawlor, after deciding that Attorney Francis J. Heney's contention that the president of the United Railroads could not secure a fair and impartial trial while he was being vilified by private Prosecutor Francis J. Heney on the political rostrum, and postponing the trial until after election, left on a trip through the east and is at present visiting a brother in Albany, N. Y.

The case was set for November 15, but Judge Lawlor has telegraphed that he will not be here until the 28. This will bring the opening of the hearing almost to the first of December, and it is thought in some quarters that there will be little objection on the part of all parties if it is postponed until after the Christmas holidays. If this action is taken it will be done so that jurors who had been appointed general attorney and may be permanently secured will not have to be locked up during the holiday season.

DRAFT ORDINANCE TO STOP SALE OF DISEASED MEATS

Butchers and Health Board Agree Upon Recommendations of Bill to Be Presented to the City Council

After much deliberation last night in the rooms of the board of health a committee from the Butchers' Exchange of Alameda County, representatives of the wholesale and retail butchers and members of the health board decided on the draft of an ordinance having for its purpose the prevention of the sale of diseased meats in the city of Oakland.

The proposed ordinance is practically the same as the one now in effect in Los Angeles. Assistant City Attorney Koford was instructed to embody the suggestions of the meeting in a measure which will be presented to the ordinance and judiciary committee of the City Council tonight for consideration.

The principal point of the proposed measure is that all animals shall be inspected before they are killed. The provision was inserted because of the difficulty in detecting tubercular meat after the animal was dead.

HEALTH MEMBERS PRESENT. The members of the board of health present were Dr. C. A. Dukes, Dr. J. P. Adams, Dr. Edwin N. Ewer, and Dr. R. A. Archibald. Among others who took part in the general discussion were Dr. George F. Rhinelandt, of Berkeley, Dr. Edward von Adelung, Dr. A. S. Kelley, Kenneth A. Millikan, president of the local society for the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis; John L. Davis, Captain J. McMenamy, J. C. Bright, C. Kewhall and Messrs. Agnew and Lewis, representing the wholesale butchers.

The plan of having the meat inspected after the carcass is in the various meat shops was discussed but finally rejected on the ground that it would be next to impossible to tell whether the meat was diseased or not. The members of the Butchers' Exchange were at first in favor of the meat being inspected in the shops after the animals had been killed and had prepared an ordinance along this line. After much debate, in which S. A. Friedman and Dr. Archibald exchanged acrimonious language, the proposal for meat inspection in the shops was rejected and the provision for inspection of the animals before they were killed was substituted.

MEAT INSPECTORS. Another point that was settled last night, which had been in dispute, was as to the appointment of the various meat inspectors. It was advisable to leave the power of appointment in the hands of the Board of Health, inasmuch as the inspectors will be able to cooperate with other employees of the city in keeping ing vegetable as well as meat markets clean. The question of fees caused some discussion, it being the object of the ordinance to prevent discrimination such as would permit of a monopoly being created. The ordinance under which the city of Los Angeles is now operating was chosen as a model in making the fee.

Dr. Archibald pointed out that the Los Angeles ordinance was already working, and that it would be better to follow an established precedent instead of experimenting with something wholly new. This view eventually won the approval of the majority present.

MEAT MUST BE INSPECTED. The proposed ordinance makes it unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to have in possession or to expose for sale for human food any flesh of any kind, swine or goats, unless the same shall have been stamped by a United States government inspector or an inspector of the city. It is further provided that before any person or firm slaughter any of the above named animals, swine or goats, he must make a report to the board of health or the meat inspector for a permit. The inspector or an assistant will then go to the slaughter house and examine the animals before they are killed. If they are not diseased the carcasses, after death, will be stamped and will then be ready for sale.

SALARY QUESTION. In event a firm or corporation desires to have an inspector continuously at its slaughter house, a fee of $100 per month will be paid to the inspector. If the salary of the deputy meat inspector, if the inspector is desired for but a day the fee will be $50.00. For less periods the fee will be 50 cents an hour. The penalty for the violation of any of the provisions will be a fine or imprisonment, or both.

Assistant City Attorney Koford will embody the ordinance in a bill to be submitted to the city council for approval.

Under the proposed system the fees will make the ordinance self-supporting.

DE LANCEY BASES HIS DEFENSE ON STATE'S CASE

which witness did. He and Flood took the money to the treasury. Then Gray was advised by his head counsel, George W. Reed, to turn over all the money he had and be told DeLancey that it would have to be done.

"Then," said Gray, "sometimes in March, DeLancey and I turned all the money over."

"Did it include the money in the George Hite Cook estate?" Gray — "I do not know, sir."

Hynes — "Did you have any conversation at that time with DeLancey about the money that had been turned over?" Gray — "As far as I know, the county treasurer's office, DeLancey said, 'They ought to be satisfied now that we have turned all the money over.' That is all the conversation we had on the subject."

OLD HITE WAS "SQUARE." Witness testified with reference to the payment of claims against estates by DeLancey that up to December 1, 1908, sometimes defendant would pay them out of estates' money and sometimes out of his own funds.

Hynes — "Did anything said by you to DeLancey after the court order to pay money over to the county treasurer about getting a statement as to how you stood in the matter of your official financial obligations?"

Gray — "On several occasions I asked DeLancey for a statement of how I stood and he always assured me that I owed nothing and was square in my accounts because all the money was on deposit in the county treasury."

IDENTIFIED HIS OFFICIAL SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT for the period ended July 31, 1909, in which the prosecution claims falsifications by DeLancey of the entries in the George Hite Cook and C. Arnaud estates, and it was admitted in evidence.

Hynes — "Did you sign this report as correct?" Gray — "I did."

Hynes — "Under what circumstances?" Gray — "DeLancey gave it to me to sign in his office. I asked him if it was correct and he said 'Yes' and I signed it. That is all there was to it."

A five minutes' recess was taken at 11:10 o'clock and the court resumed at 11:20 o'clock. The entries in the George Hite Cook and C. Arnaud estates were read about fifteen minutes of the court's time.

Witness said that after money was deposited with the county treasurer, claims were paid on order of court and upon county auditor's warrants on the county treasury.

GRAY MAKES DISCOVERY. Hynes — "State whether or not, after March 1, 1909, you discovered money were not being deposited with the county treasurer?"

Gray — "Not until the Grand Jury investigation began."

Hynes — "What conversation on this subject did you have with DeLancey about this matter?"

Gray — "I told DeLancey that I had to appear before the Grand Jury and I wanted him to turn in all the money."

Hynes — "What did he say?" Gray — "He said, 'Tell them you have all the money.'"

The assistant prosecutor then led witness up to the list dated in August when he was advised by a writer to turn over to DeLancey's office, accompanied by the District Attorney, and asked for a statement.

"DeLancey was not in the office when we went," said witness, "but came in a minute later. I was in the office with him and DeLancey said, 'You shall have all the money.'"

Witness identified a copy of the written demand made upon DeLancey, and after being read to the jury by the assistant prosecutor the court admitted it in evidence.

GRAY'S DEMAND. The demand reads as follows: "Oakland, Cal., Aug. 21, 1909. 'To John S. DeLancey, Attorney-at-Law, Oakland, Cal.:

"I hereby demand that you turn over at once all moneys and other properties in your hands or under your control, belonging to the estate of George Hite Cook, to me, administrator of said estate, and which I am administrator of, in which application for letters has been made."

"(Signed) C. F. GRAY, 'Public Administrator.'"

Gray said that the record of the Public Administrator was in the hands of DeLancey and that DeLancey did not look at it but set to work to prepare a statement of his own.

Gray then gave a check. Attorney J. W. Blumhagen was present at the settlement, also in evidence and check to Mr. Hingman and he examined them. He noted that the check was for $10,000 and that DeLancey had the statement called for. I then paid DeLancey in cash to make the amount exact."

DECLARED IT ALL DUE. Hynes — "Was anything said to this defendant by the District Attorney about this being all the money due to you as Public Administrator?"

Gray — "Yes, the attorney said to DeLancey, 'John, is this all the money owing to George?'"

Hynes — "What did DeLancey say?" Gray — "He replied, 'Yes, it is every cent.'"

Hynes — "Did you say anything to DeLancey on the same subject?" Gray — "I asked, 'John, is this everything due?' and he replied, 'Yes, it will balance to half a cent, absolutely.'"

The assistant prosecutor then had witness identify the statement defendant made on this occasion and offered it in evidence without opposition from the defense. The statement contains a long list of miscellaneous items received by DeLancey in the conduct of his office, together with funds in small estates.

Court adjourned for the noon hour at this juncture.

GOES INTO DETAILS. The afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock and the State continued with the direct examination of Gray.

Going further into details of the conference in DeLancey's office on August 31, witness said that as Donahue was leaving, DeLancey and Gray talked to witness, "I want to see you alone."

Gray — "I remained behind and DeLancey locked the door. He said he was merely bound to pay a party $10,000 and wanted me to let him have the money. I said, 'John, I will not take any advice for you nor will I loan you a cent.' 'If you don't,' he said, 'I will have you indicted.' 'All right,' said I, 'you know and I don't, but I can't let you go on like this.' 'I will have you indicted for accepting interest on deposits,' DeLancey remarked. 'But I did not do that.' I protested. 'You did,' said DeLancey. I said I did not and then went into George W. Reed's office where Attorney Blumhagen and District Attorney Donahue were. As we came out into the hall DeLancey was standing in his office door. I said to Donahue, 'John is going to have me indicted for taking interest money on deposits but I did not receive any.'"

Gray said that the next time he saw DeLancey was just outside the door of the county treasurer's office. He tendered Deputy District Attorney L. A. Clark was with him.

Hynes — "Did you say anything to him?" Gray — "No, sir. I called to one side and served upon him written demands to pay over to me at once the money due in about twenty-three estates, including those of George Hite Cook ($10,000) and C. Arnaud ($10,000)."

Hynes — "What did DeLancey say when you served these notices?" Gray — "He took them from me, folded them up and put them in his pocket."

Hynes — "What did he say?" Gray — "He said nothing."

Hynes — "Did you ever authorize any bank official or any other person to pay any money to this defendant without your authorization?" Gray — "No, sir; not unless my signature appeared. I gave DeLancey no authorization to draw any money in my name."

Hynes — "With reference to that loan of $10,000 he demanded of you, did DeLancey say anything to you about property?" Gray — "He said DeLancey offered to deed him property worth $4000 for $2000, but that I had better have it transferred in some other name so it would not appear that we were having any transactions together. He also said he would assign to me fees that were due to him from certain estates."

The assistant district attorney asked witness if he had prepared or changed any document that had been admitted in evidence since the beginning of the trial.

Gray — "I did not."

The certificate of deposit in the C. Arnaud estate on the bank of A. Levy, of Oakland, was introduced on the back, "Geo. Gray, estate of C. Arnaud," and under that "John S. DeLancey," was identified by Gray.

Hynes — "Do you remember what you did with that certificate of deposit after you endorsed it?" Gray — "I left it with DeLancey to be deposited in the bank, either to the credit of the estate or the public administrator."

Hynes — "Did you ever authorize DeLancey to add his endorsement to that of yours?" Gray — "No, sir; I never did."

The affidavit that DeLancey filed at the time he deposited the money in the George Hite Cook and C. Arnaud estates and the deposit slip where defendant transferred the money in the Cook estate to his own private account, which was produced by the State and admitted in evidence, together with the letters of administration issued to Gray in the C. Arnaud estate.

RENTS PAID. Continuing his testimony yesterday after THE TRIBUNE went to press, former Public Administrator George Gray was asked by Assistant District Attorney Hynes if, at the time he employed DeLancey as his legal representative, he instructed the lawyer in his duties.

"I did," replied Gray. "I told him he should represent me fully and give the office his closest and best attention, and as my reason for retaining this trust which I considered him better qualified to attend to its affairs than I was, DeLancey assured me that he would give the office the best possible attention."

Hynes — "What instructions did you give him with reference to depositing money?" Gray — "My instructions were that all moneys were to be deposited either to the credit of the estates or the public administrator."

Hynes — "Did you instruct DeLancey to receive money during your absence from home?" Gray — "I did and told him to deposit it as I have already said."

Hynes — "Did he have two bank books all the time and sometimes four or five. The book of the Oakland Bank of Savings was accessible to DeLancey all the time."

Assistant District Attorney Hynes then asked witness if he had seen the book which he said, saying it was the book that was always in the custody of defendant.

The prosecution offered the book in evidence and it was admitted.

Hynes — "Did you see the book of the Oakland Bank of Savings in the name of the public administrator did DeLancey have in his possession?" Gray — "The Oakland Bank of Savings, the Bank of San Leandro and the Bank of Hayward."

HAD LON'S APPOINTMENT. The court admitted the letters of administration issued by the probate judge to Gray in the George Hite Cook estate, and then Gray testified that A. J. Flood, an employee of DeLancey and that he (Gray) had had nothing to do with the installation of Flood in his office as clerk.

The prosecution asked witness to deposit the book of the George Hite Cook estate with the German Savings and Loan Society, and Gray said that he deposited the book with the society and took from the bank a certificate of deposit for $10,787.78 that the book represented and he gave it in evidence, also the certificate of administration that Gray filed with the German Savings and Loan Society in order to get possession of the certificate of deposit.

Gray identified the certificate of deposit he received from the German Bank and the endorsement on the back in so far as "George Gray, public administrator," was concerned.

Hynes — "Was any handwriting in this endorsement, 'Pay to John S. DeLancey'?" Gray — "In John S. DeLancey's."

Witness said he endorsed the certificate of deposit and gave it to A. J. Flood and that at no time did he ever have any conversation with DeLancey with reference to his endorsing the certificate or authorize him to do so.

Hynes — "Did you at any time state to this defendant that he might deposit this certificate of deposit in his own personal account, or that he might add anything to your own endorsement on the back of it?" Gray — "No, sir. I never did."

The assistant prosecutor then handed the certificate of deposit and all the other exhibits admitted in evidence thus far to the jury for its inspection.

DEFENSE OBJECTS. The attempt of the State to have witness identify his own inventory in the Cook estate, filed by him in the probate department of the Superior Court on September 21, 1909, was opposed by Attorney Erick on the ground that it was irrelevant, immaterial and incompetent, and the assistant prosecutor withdrew the question temporarily and took another tack to get at the same result.

After this time the State brought out the fact that DeLancey made out affidavits for Gray all inventories and appraisements and that to witness' best knowledge DeLancey never filed any such paper in the George Hite Cook estate.

THINK GEBHARDT IS WHOLESALE SLAYER

Confessed Murderer of Luther Woman, Will Face "Third Degree" Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. — Pressure by the police, which has already forced Frederick Gebhardt, alias Otto Mueller, with other wives besides Anna Luther, for whose killing he is now imprisoned at Jails, L. I., was again applied today to the man who is being held by the authorities to have made a business of marrying women and killing them for their money.

The authorities are working on the theory that at least three more crimes like that which Gebhardt committed at Jails, L. I., were committed today.

He admitted that he has never living in Tennessee, Kentucky and North Carolina, in addition to the woman he married in Eastern Oregon, and until it was discovered that he was a bigamist stood high in the various communities, although he was a hard religious worker and conducted a number of revivals.

'OH, YOU KID!' IS INSULT TO WOMAN

Thrasher of Husband Who Called Wife Thusly Commended By Magistrate

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 23.—"Any person who says 'Oh, you kid,' ought to be slapped. You have a right, perhaps, to call your wife anything you wish in your own home, but when you refer to her as 'kid' in the public street you should not complain when you are knocked down and dismissed the case against him."

Police Magistrate Walker of the fashionable East End yesterday made this announcement in dismissing the case of assault and battery which had been brought against George B. Stack by Norman Bradley.

It appears that Bradley and his young wife had been at a theater recently and on their way home, Bradley had stopped to chat with a friend while Mrs. Bradley strolled on a few steps alone. Bradley called to his wife, "Oh, you kid, wait," whereupon Stack, who did not know either Bradley or his wife, stepped up and swung a right from the shoulder, putting Bradley into the gutter. There was a bitter fight in which both men were badly used up and Stack was much disgusted to learn that Bradley had been calling to his own wife.

Stack's defense was that he considered these words bawled out on the street by anyone to a woman, was an insult to her and he had not stopped to ask any questions, but had hit Bradley, thinking he was insulting the woman.

GEORGE DOWNIE, ORCHARDIST, DIES

---Has Been Ill for Many Months

SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 23.—George Downie, inventor of the famous eucalyptus oil, and a pioneer orchardist of this place, died last evening at his home on Hayward avenue near Easterbrook.

For the past seven months he has been suffering and his death was not entirely unexpected by his family. About twenty-three years ago Downie settled in San Leandro, where he planted an orchard of many acres. He came to California in 1880 and engaged in business in Oakland. During his long residence here he was twice elected a member of the Board of Trustees of that city. He was a prominent member of the Masonic lodge of this place and has been connected with the order for 32 years.

The funeral will be conducted under the auspices of the San Leandro lodge of Masons Saturday afternoon, from the family residence.

GIRL PUPILS IGNORE ORDER AGAINST "RATS"

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Two thousand girls attending the Erasmus High School, Brooklyn, have held a mass-meeting at which they decided to ignore an edict issued by the assistant principal, prohibiting the wearing of "rats" and "buffs" in their hair.

The order to discontinue the use of such attire during the new year was issued by the school authorities, who expressed their disapproval of the girls' decision to ignore the order.

The school faculty has taken a determined stand in the matter, and it is expected that a clash will result between the pupils and the teaching staff.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—All information concerning the action for a legal separation which Mrs. John Jacob Astor is reported to have brought against Colonel Astor is being carefully withheld from the public, though it was stated today that Lawyer C. H. Young would soon be able to submit his report as referee to the court.

In the case of alimony, should the separation be granted, Colonel Astor will make a division of his property for the benefit of Mrs. Astor.

So far as can be learned, Mrs. Astor has given no testimony before the referee.

RETURNS HOME TO FIND WIFE MARRIED

WIDOW ARRIVES TO CLAIM MONEY

Will Fight Sister and Nurse
for Property of Dr. Edward Bright

Mrs. Josephine Bright, the widow of the late Dr. Henry Bright, has arrived from New York to gain the custody of her young son Voltaire and obtain her share of the $20,000 estate bequeathed by her late husband in two-thirds part to his son and the remainder to Mrs. Mae Hildebrand, a nurse, at whose house he made his residence with his son.

Mrs. Bright is fortified with letters and other documentary proofs to establish her claims. She claims she was deserted by Bright when he came on to California, having been married fourteen years ago.

The death of Bright, about a week ago, was the first notice to the public that things were awry in his family affairs. His sister, Mrs. Sarah E. Boardman, got out an order restraining Undertaker Finney and Mrs. Mae Hildebrand from proceeding with the funeral. The sister is of the Jewish persuasion and wanted her brother interred according to the rites of that faith. This matter was adjusted and then came the filing of the will by Attorney Clarence Reed on behalf of Mae Hildebrand. Attorneys Samuel S. Samuels have been engaged by both the widow and sister of the deceased to contest the testament.

BAKER'S FAMILY LEAVES OWING MANY BAD DEBTS

SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 23.—John Gottschalk, proprietor of the San Leandro bakery, his wife and two children, left town Monday night at 12 o'clock, supposedly for Santa Rosa, leaving mourning people in San Leandro and San Francisco. No definite reason is known for his leaving town, as he had a good trade in San Leandro, but up to the last two months it fell off slightly. He was in arrears for two months' rent to Joseph Hershner.

The establishment will soon be placed in the hands of the receiver, when an estimate will be placed on his debts.

WIELDED FISTS ON WIFE'S FACE

Sister of Mrs. Summerhay
Says Electrical Man Made
Attack on Spouse

The troubles that existed in the Summerhay home in Berkeley were partly revealed in Judge Wiley's court today by Irene Miller, the sister of the wife, whose testimony was taken because she intends to leave the State.

The husband, William Ruggles Summerhay, is manager of the Mutual Electric Company at San Francisco, and the wife seeks divorce from him on the ground of cruelty.

The witness related that when at the Summerhay home in Berkeley on one occasion her brother-in-law, in a fit of rage, struck her sister in the face several times with the result that the latter's eyes were blackened and she was confined to her room for several days. She admitted that she intervened to save her sister and in her indignation struck Summerhay several blows in order to compel him to desist in the brutal treatment of her sister. The further trial of the case comes up on November 11. The husband has filed a cross complaint in the action in which he charges the wife with misconduct in her relations with a young architect named Kueffer.

The witness averred that the letter had been destroyed afterward. He testified also that he had received $200 from his father but his assertion that the sum came originally from Dr. Dwinnell was ordered stricken from the record.

SOCIETY QUEENS HOSTILE TO CZAR

Rule of Greenway Threatened by Rebellious Faction City's Ultra-Smart

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—For the third time since the season opened last spring, there is mutiny in the ranks of the Greenway factions. Upheavals of social customs and a rebellion against the dictatorial reign of the "little fat czar" seem to be an established custom, the only noteworthy effect of which is to seat the wine merchant more firmly on his throne.

The latest insurrection is led, not by the hostile Mrs. Alexander, who has been Greenway's sternest foe in the past, but by a bevy of ultra-smart matrons, whose names gleam like shining lights in the gilded pages of the blue book. Twenty-four strong, they have each subscribed $100 to pay the expenses of two balls to be given in the Colonial room of the St. Francis during the coming months. Each subscriber is to have ten guest cards, and when the list is scanned it will be seen that neither Greenway nor Mrs. Alexander are to have a word to say about their distribution.

THE REBELS.

Here are the names of the leaders of the rebellious faction, the ensemble signifying a strength which even Greenway may have to consider:

Mrs. James Laurence Scott, Dixwell Hewitt, Mountford S. Wilson, Walter S. Martin, Horace Pillsbury, Fred McNeely, Gus Taylor, Alexander Hamilton, Joseph D. Grant, Latham McMullen, Athearn Folger, Herbert Moffitt, George Pope, George Aymer Newhall, Edward Pringle, Misses Florence Hopkins, Jennie Crocker, Ellen Winna, Helen Chesborough, Genevieve King.

It will be noticed that Mrs. Alexander's older sister, Mrs. Mountford S. Wilson, is on the list and that it smacks largely of the St. Francis coterie. Many of these ladies were patronesses of Mrs. Alexander's colonial dances last season, but this year Mrs. Alexander decided to give the dances without patronesses and do as well as she could with them. So the Alexander dances are not to be confused with these exclusive affairs of the twenty-four patronesses.

BROTHERS POUNCE ON BURGLAR SEARCHING ROOM

Manuel and Jose Rodriguez, residing at 1575 Fifth street, were awakened at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday by a burglar stealthily making his way through their room. One of the brothers then set a search of a policeman and found Patrolman Pullman, who came to the house and placed the intruder under arrest.

HE TIPPED WAITER; BEAT RESTAURANT

Oakland Man Enjoyed Extra Big Meal for Ten Cents Through Bribery

A plan to live on sixty cents a day and yet consume several times that amount of food at a public eating house was unfolded before Acting Police Judge Quinn in police court yesterday when S. Arthur Gray, of an aged, benign and philanthropic appearance, confessed to defrauding an innkeeper.

The complainant against Gray was Mrs. C. Benz, proprietress of a restaurant on lower Washington street. She told of Gray's first appearance at her restaurant some time ago and how he had a lean and hungry look.

HE GREW FAT. Later Gray began to expand like a real alderman and yet his checks for meals never exceeded ten cents. Mrs. Benz marveled and thought of advertising the fattening qualities of her food. Then she noted that Gray was eating very square meals. When he brought her the check it was but ten cents as usual. The denouement soon followed, and she learned that Gray was in the habit of tipping the waiter to the extent of ten cents at each meal and in return the waiter made out the check in the sum of ten cents, no matter what Gray ordered.

PAYS BACK DUES. Mrs. Benz figured that in the process she had been the loser of at least $12.95, so she discharged the waiter and caused Gray to be arrested. He had $32 in his possession when arrested, so the court apportioned the amount to the satisfaction of Mrs. Benz and allowed Gray to depart with the warning that tipping is doubly a pernicious habit when it is carried to the extreme of making the house pay for the tip.

ADMITS RECEIVING OFFER FOR SPRING VALLEY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—President Bourn of the Spring Valley Water Company sent a brief note to the office of the Board of Supervisors yesterday acknowledging receipt of an invitation to submit proposals for the sale to the city of his company's water system, but giving no hint as to whether he intends to do so or not.

The invitation was extended as a necessary preliminary to carrying forward proceedings for the acquisition of the Sierra system, the charter providing that such offers of sale of existing public utilities must be solicited before the city's governing authorities can proceed to create them for themselves.

PRISONER MUST TELL WHO WIELDED KNIFE

It was at first thought that the man's wife was responsible for his injuries, but later it was discovered that he had occurred in the new Milano saloon, 400 Broadway.

Some Checkbook Reformers.

At first it seemed as if William Hoff Cook would take first prize for heaping coarse personal abuse on Mr. Fickert, but it appears that the palm must be awarded to Hiram Johnson. Apparently Mr. Johnson is striving to outdo Heney in black-guarding the Republican and Union Labor nominee. "Liar," "coward," "knave," "candidate of the dollar," "slave of the corporations" are a few of the epithets he shouts at Mr. Fickert.

It is common talk around the streets of San Francisco—and in this instance we believe common talk to be the truth—that Mr. Johnson is being paid for making speeches in Heney's behalf, that for every speech he delivers in support of the Spreckels candidate he receives or is to receive a stated sum from the Heney campaign fund, which is a political euphemism for the checkbook of Rudolph Spreckels. If this be true, it is a case of one paid employee of Rudolph Spreckels urging the election of another paid employee of Spreckels to the office of District Attorney; Mr. Johnson is simply talking for coin and for future professional preferment and advantage.

J. J. Dwyer and William J. Burns are also in the category of hired men, speaking loftily of devotion to moral ideals and claiming to be evangelists in the interests of justice; but each of them has jingling in his jeans the wages of Mr. Spreckels. Every man jack of them has the Spreckels brand on his back, the Spreckels money in his pockets and the dollar mark on his morality.

Isn't it about time for the denizens of the red-light district to organize a crusade to purify the social life of San Francisco? The inspiring example of William J. Burns, J. J. Dwyer, "Billy" Otts, Fremont Older, Aleck Gregains, Nick Korngold, Dick Creighton, Big Jim Gallagher and Andy Wilson ought to cause the redlights to blaze with moral enthusiasm, and to add the peculiar activities they symbolize to the forces of the uplift.

When J. Dalzell Brown reads of Hiram Johnson and William Hoff Cook standing side by side on the same platform exalting Heney and denouncing graft and grafters, he must have hard work to keep his face straight. Cook prosecuted Brown and Johnson defended him, and if ever two worthy coadjutors labored in harmonious understanding to promote the ends of righteousness and equality before the law it was illustrated by the result of the Brown episode—it was not a trial.

But hasn't Mr. Johnson mixed his babies up in calling Mr. Fickert the candidate of the dollar? That description fits Heney to a dot. The dollar patriots who are pleading for him on the stump ought to appreciate the felicity of his characterization as applied to the Spreckels checkbook reformer.

Gallagher as an Example to Young Men.

In his campaign speeches Francis J. Heney has been holding up James L. Gallagher as a model for young men. Gallagher, we believe, was the leader of the pack of thieving supervisors who boozed and blackmailed wherever there was a dollar in sight. He received three times as much as the lesser scoundrels got; he made the arrangements to get the stuff, gave the word what to do, distributed the booze—and, thrifty lawyer that he is, charged his associates five per cent for collecting the wages of their infamy. With $35,000 of easy money gained in this way deposited in the vaults of Spreckels' bank, the worthy Gallagher walks the streets of San Francisco a free and prosperous citizen, and is pointed at by Mr. Heney as a shining example for the youth of the land to emulate. Mr. Heney could find no subject for eulogy more congenial to his tastes or more worthy his talents. In all the world, Gallagher could not find a more fitting and sympathetic panegyrist—unless, perchance, the task of eulogizing should fall to William J. Burns! But with all his high qualities, it is not as a moral exemplar that "Big Jim" is most admirable and impressive. As a memorial to equality before the law he is altogether lovely.

Abuse of Prisoners.

It is told, from apparently responsible sources, that some members of our police force indulge in unlawful and inhuman treatment of prisoners.

It is said, in the case of the negro member of the chain gang who recently attempted to escape, that after he was again in custody he was knocked down, beaten and kicked by one of the officers in charge. There are other reports of needlessly cruel exercise of authority over the chain gang.

Now it is true that these prisoners are criminals, but it is also true that they are human beings, no matter how unfortunate, and the law does not abandon them to the cruel caprice of their guards or jailers. After the negro was again in custody the law gives no policeman the power to beat, kick or otherwise punish him. The policeman who strikes and kicks a helpless prisoner in his power is entirely unfit for the office he holds and should be dismissed.

Chief Wilson is known as a humane man and is doubtless unaware of this alleged misconduct on the part of his officers, but it should be made the subject of searching inquiry by the Police Commissioners.

It remains to be seen whether the Koreans have mitigated Japanese oppression by tempting leprosy with assassination.

Mayor Mott's Message to the People.

At the quarterly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday evening Mayor Frank K. Mott delivered the most important message to the people of Oakland that has ever been presented to them by any previous executive officer. It was devoted entirely to the proposed improvements of Oakland's waterfront for commercial uses under municipal control and the annexation of outside territory for the consolidation of their interests, political and practical, and the unification of their aims and ambitions for mutual benefit on the lines of least friction and greatest economy. The address was a masterly summing up of the long and laborious task of preparing a practical and progressive plan of municipal improvement and expansion on a broader and higher plane than ever before attempted. The formulating of that plan is the culmination of a fight which the municipality has waged, at tremendous expense to itself, to secure control of its waterfront and start to adapt it to the uses of commerce, for the better part of half a century. Through that long period of irritating controversy and costly litigation Oakland has struggled heroically to obtain that which is now in its possession and under its control. It is now squarely up to the citizens of Oakland to prove the sincerity of their professions in the past and that they are not now influenced by any dog-in-the-manger policy.

The idea is unthinkable, but it is unquestionably true, that, if Oakland should vote against the issuance of bonds for the improvement of its commercial waterfront and for the erection of a city hall adapted to its wants as a community at present of a quarter of a million inhabitants and of an immediately prospective population of 300,000, it will brand itself in the eyes of the civilized world as a silurian, unprogressive city which has no appreciation of its opportunities and no desire to rise above its present condition. It goes without saying, however, that no such brand will be placed upon it or THE TRIBUNE greatly misjudges the temper of the people.

But the Mayor's address should, nevertheless, be read thoughtfully by every citizen. It presents the situation concisely and intelligently from a business man's standpoint, and that is, after all, the only true standpoint from which it should be considered by anyone. As a business proposition the Mayor shows conclusively that while, in theory, it provides for the incurring of a municipal indebtedness and an increased taxation, when the revenues to be derived from the dock improvements are considered, the improvements will pay for themselves and no indebtedness is actually assumed; if, however, the whole indebtedness represented in the issuance of the waterfront improvement bonds were to fall on the taxpayers that the benefits derived by property would amply compensate taxpayers in general and equalize results automatically as has been done in the case of the park improvements already carried out where the return of principal and interest is plainly in sight through the increased valuation of property and the corresponding increase of revenues through its increased assessed valuation for taxable purposes. This is all independent of the greater benefits which will accrue for the development of Oakland harbor as an independent commercial and manufacturing center, the importance of which to Oakland's future status cannot be over-estimated. The Mayor's showing is convincing and leaves nothing for doubt to sway the wavering, if there be any such class in the community.

Oakland got a world-wide advertisement out of the auto road races in which new world records for speed were made. Every newspaper published in every civilized country on the face of the globe contained the telegraphic report of the day's events and results and the city in whose suburbs the races were held except some of San Francisco's big dailies which studiously avoided mentioning Oakland in their reports. But Oakland will survive that petty piece of meanness, as it has been placed more securely and conspicuously on the map through these auto road races than it was before, and it had, even then, become pretty well known throughout the civilized world.

"The weather this fall, warm and wet, favors the man with cattle running at large," remarks the Santa Cruz Sentinel. It may be added, also, that it favors the pastures of the dairy ranches, but it has failed, so far, to have any effect upon the prices of dairy products and thus give a modicum of financial relief to the expense account of householders, for the market prices remain sky-high.

The physical culture supervisor employed in the Chicago public schools has made the discovery that eighty out of ninety pupils taught how to use their limbs by the "dry" exercises in the gymnasium are able to swim in the water the first time they put the art of water locomotion thus acquired to a practical test. This is a discovery worth adopting by every physical culture teacher employed in the public schools.

For one thing Oakland and its environs have cause to be profoundly thankful—namely, that the croaker and the knocker are both dead, and the booster for progress and prosperity is alone in evidence. More power to his lungs and his energy.

Heavy Duty on Watch Cases

WASHINGTON.—Under a ruling made today by the Treasury Department, a duty of 85 per cent will be imposed on all articles whose chief value is of silver, German silver, white metal, brass or gold, whether they are washed with gold, silver or nickel or not, provided they are designed "to be carried on or about or attached to the person."

The question arose in connection with an importation of watch cases and of complete silver watches. It had been decided that as watch cases, without the interior works, were not designed to be carried on the person they were subject to a duty of only 40 per cent ad valorem under paragraph 182. But the complete watches are subject to a compound duty, calculated to amount to 85 per cent, under paragraph 448, as being articles the chief value of which is the silver.

An assessment of 20 per cent ad valorem duty on fur clippings or cuttings, if suitable for use as trimmings or for sewing together for making garments, is directed by the Treasury Department in a letter to the Collector of Customs at Niagara Falls.—N. Y. Tribune.

EUROPE, A KEG OF POWDER

"Europe is sitting on a keg of powder. All that prevents an explosion is a lack of a cord of living fire. And some one will place it where it will create an explosion, sooner or later."

So spoke Senator Dewey at his home, fresh from a two months' stay on the other side of the Atlantic. The Senator thinks the United States is at peace with all the world. But, as between Germany and Great Britain, he would not be surprised to see war break out any day.

"Germany has been poking the noses of her ships into commercial ports that heretofore England has regarded as peculiarly her own," the Senator continued, "and she is expanding in every direction. In doing the whole world realizes it will add to the prosperity of its people. Germany hasn't the resources we Americans possess."

"England seemed to have been asleep while her great rival was wrestling territories from her. Awakening, she attempted to get back that which she had lost. Failing, she has begun preparing for a conflict, her idea being that she can, with her battleships, do that which commercial competition cannot or has not done. The situation, to my mind, is serious, and a crisis is near."

"During my recent trip abroad I found capital everywhere making inquiries about our securities. Europe's money has been pouring into this country of late and more of it is coming."

"But how much more general would our prosperity be if capital understood that in the event of a conflict this country would be in a condition to protect every interest. That time will arrive when we have taken the iron from our mines, the wood from our forests, the men from our factory and store, trained them in the art of navigation and sent them, with our flag and our products to the farthest corners of the world. If we had the ships that Germany has there wouldn't be an idle man on this continent."

"As it is, we are helpless. While we sell foreign nations about $5,000,000 daily of our products, less than 7 per cent of this is carried by American ships. We have what is known as a billion-dollar Congress. We spend hundreds of millions for pensions, for the navy, for the army, for our mail system, for the improvement of harbors, but not one cent do we spend toward bettering and broadening our merchant marine. It is a shame."—New York American.

CRITICISM OF THE ARMY

WASHINGTON.—Treating of practically every branch of the army, the annual report of Inspector General E. A. Garlington, made public the other day, is devoted to comment on existing conditions, some of which are criticized and others commended.

In a chapter devoted to the annual physical tests made by direction of President Roosevelt, General Garlington observes that a scheme requiring each officer to take exercise commensurate with his duties and age in the entire year, as shown by personal monthly reports, would better accomplish the purpose sought by Mr. Roosevelt's orders than the practice now in vogue.

The belief is expressed that the army is greatly in need of increase in the infantry and field artillery and of reorganization of the cavalry, and the opinion is given that legislation to this end would be facilitated by quartering the troops where they would come closely in contact with the people.

Political Comment

Anybody who studies the eulogy of Senator Aldrich in the Rhode Island Republican platform and the condemnation of him in the Rhode Island Democratic platform must regard the Senator as a Jekyll-Hyde sort of a statesman.—Hartford Daily Times.

Rules of the Air

A committee is engaged in formulating rules for the aerial roadway. Its work has not been made public, but the members do not deny that the following essential regulations will be adopted:

Aviators to turn to the right when this can be done without turning turtle; otherwise, no duck.

No balloonist without plenty of sand shall make an ascension.

Wind not permitted to blow while aviators are aloft, or aviators to blow after they have come down.

Heavier-than-air machines obligated to dodge balloons or be responsible for the puncture and pay for the gas.

Birds alighting on gas bags to be ruled out as foul.

No aviators to engage in a church steeple chase.

Machines taking fire while in flight shall drop in a damp spot.

Crows and farmers to be dragged at anchor ropes at their own risk only.

Wireless messages intercepted by accident to be regarded as confidential.

Pest Becomes a Profit

The rabbit pest of Australia has at last become a source of industry. During the last five years $1,425,000 frozen rabbits were exported from Victoria, most of them to England; also $3,250,000 rabbit skins. Australia last year sent $243,000 worth of rabbit skins to the United States.

Among the numerous superstitions of the Cosacaks there is none stronger than the belief that they are more likely to be welcomed in heaven if they are personally clean at the time they are killed. Consequently before an expected battle they perform their toilets with scrupulous care.

Some interesting experiments have been made to ascertain which wood lasts the longest. It was found that birch and chestnut decayed in three years, maple and red beech in five years, and elm and ash in seven years. Oak, Scottish fir and Western white pine decayed to the depth of half an inch in seven years; larch and juniper were unharmed at the end of seven years. In situations so free from moisture that they may be practically called dry, the durability of timber is unlimited.

The latest use of the telephone is in locating shoals of fish. The electric apparatus is a German patent. A microphone, inclosed in a water tight case, connected with an electric battery and telephone, is lowered into the water. So long as the telephone hangs free no sound is heard, but on its coming into contact with a shoal of fish the constant tapping of the fish against the microphone produces a series of sounds which at once betray their presence. The cord attached to the microphone is marked so that the exact depth of the shoal is designated.

Paris in Danger

Paris becomes unbearable. The noise and smell of the motor and motor buses, the glare in all the leading main thoroughfares of balconies let out for the luminous advertisements, shifty as chameleons, the dust and dirt increasing day by day, have robbed it of its old grace and charms. It keeps, however, one deep-rooted source of superiority, which has existed through the ages—that of being a university city, the most illustrious seat of learning and of high thought, if not, on the whole, the very first, that Europe has ever known. This is why, though little people do not respect it, Paris is supreme also in the arts that adorn human life, promote sociability and prolong the reign of the individual woman. It has been the paradise of every woman with a mind who has the merest bread and cheese; of every woman gifted with talent and a fair amount of good looks, and there is something in it that enables ladies to be so sure to meet old age cheerfully. The mental atmosphere of a university city induces temperance in pleasure. Culinary luxury has not degenerated into extravagance. The Parisienne can be recheche and tasteful in her surroundings and belongings without going to any great extent. The very costly clothes are still for foreign ladies. Paris is one of the few places in the world (outside of its West End) which is cosmopolitan, where wealth is not insolent. How disastrous it would be were the motor and the "Metro" to detract this brilliant, broad-minded and, in the humanist sphere, most beneficent of capitals.—London Truth.

GROWTH OF BEER TRADE

Practically all the alcohol sold as a drink in this country is in two main forms—distilled liquors and beer. For the last fifty years the per capita consumption of distilled liquors has been about stationary. The whisky business, as it did forty and fifty years ago, a little less than three quarts of pure alcohol yearly for each person in the United States.

In the same period the sale of alcohol in beer has grown from practically nothing to a quantity greater than is sold in distilled liquor. In 1860 the sale of beer in the United States was 3.22 gallons a head; in 1908 it was 21 gallons—two-thirds of a barrel. The alcohol sold in this form was a little less than a pint a head in 1860; in 1908 it was a little more than three quarts. Since 1860 the volume of this remarkable new industry has increased fifty times. It is eighteen times larger than it was in 1860. This growth of the American beer trade has constituted one of the wonders of the liquor business—commented on in trade circles all over the world.

PARKS and VIEWS of PEOPLE

An examination of conditions elsewhere is one of the best ways of learning to appreciate conditions at home. That is being illustrated by the reports of a number of summer European travelers from Chicago. One after another they return to praise the progress American cities have made in this direction or that. The latest word of this character comes from the president of the Lincoln Park board, whose opinion is that the European parks are distinctly inferior to ours and much less frequented by the people, if used by the poorer classes at all.

CRITICISM OF THE ARMY

WASHINGTON.—Treating of practically every branch of the army, the annual report of Inspector General E. A. Garlington, made public the other day, is devoted to comment on existing conditions, some of which are criticized and others commended.

In a chapter devoted to the annual physical tests made by direction of President Roosevelt, General Garlington observes that a scheme requiring each officer to take exercise commensurate with his duties and age in the entire year, as shown by personal monthly reports, would better accomplish the purpose sought by Mr. Roosevelt's orders than the practice now in vogue.

The belief is expressed that the army is greatly in need of increase in the infantry and field artillery and of reorganization of the cavalry, and the opinion is given that legislation to this end would be facilitated by quartering the troops where they would come closely in contact with the people.

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

Because of the destructive work of the terebo, which has eaten away the piling, the Eighth street bridge will have to be almost completely rebuilt instead of having repairs costing $2000 more.

Aeroplane for the Desert

WASHINGTON.—The use of an aeroplane in the mining country is the latest suggestion that has been made to Wilbur Wright, who is training the army officers in the use of his aeroplane at College Park. He had a serious application today from G. A. Diman, a mining engineer in Southern Arizona, who wanted to get a machine for passenger transportation in the desert.

Wealthy Mrs. Belmont Turns Author; Writes Book About Children and Royal Relatives

Pictures Lives of the Duchess of Marlborough and Others--Terms New Book "Looking Back"

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Oliver H. Belmont, who has entered the lists as an author, talked with a Post-Dispatch correspondent yesterday about her new book for children, which probably will be published next spring.

The story, which is that of her children, gives parents the benefit of her experience, and the volume will contain many valuable pointers for them as well as entertainment for the younger generation.

In the interview she has thrown some interesting sidelights on the lives of her children. They are Consuela Vanderbilt (who married the Duke of Marlborough), William K. Vanderbilt II, married to Virginia Fair, and Harold S. Vanderbilt.

Mrs. Belmont's grandchildren, the two sons of the Duchess of Marlborough, John, Marquis of Blandford, and Lord Iron Charles Spencer-Churchill, have been made acquainted with many of the incidents in the book by their grandmother, and it was the keen interest which Mrs. Belmont to believe that others would find the same enjoyment in the story of the young Vanderbilts and the manner of their life on Long Island.

Mrs. Belmont sounds this note of warning: "Don't give over the care of your children to hired attendants. They can never take the place of a mother."

"You see I have my own theory as to the proper bringing up of children," she said. "And I have tried to shadow it forth in this little story of the lives of my own children. I've tried to make that book not just a story for boys and girls to enjoy, but a real help for fathers and mothers who care for their children, but don't quite know how best to take care of them."

"My children were brought up on such an entirely different plan from those of most of my friends. While they were little I never lunched away from them; I was with them constantly."

"It is the usual fashion to banish children to the third floor, in charge of their nurses. My children were always on the second floor with me. They slept in a room opening off mine. The youngest was always in a crib beside my bed."

"Of course, I had nurses for them and governesses and tutors, but I was always the one in charge. My daughter was educated entirely at home. I kept two governesses in the house for her. When it was time for her to pass examinations I sent to Oxford and got them. And she passed in Latin, German, French and English without a condition."

"I believe that the solution of the problem of the children of the rich lies in just the constant association of them with the mother and father, particularly the mother. She should oversee every detail of her family's welfare."

"Of course, the parents must be educated. I have seen people whose children certainly would not be benefited by association with their fathers and mothers. But to all sensible, intelligent people I know, I say don't give over your children to the care of hired attendants. Many of these are, of course, excellent and trustworthy, but they can never take the place of a mother."

"I do not think that there ever were three children more completely different individually, than my two sons and my daughter. Yet they were brought up in the same environment. My story describes them and their various adventures."

"Each one had his or her own little garden, where they raised vegetables and flowers themselves, doing all the work and getting paid market prices for everything. They took the vegetables they raised over to the charitable home near us, but I paid them fairly for all their products."

"My children's playmates also appear here and there in the book. Mrs. Clarence Mackay is in it and Elsie French and Mr. Whitney. I fancy those and many others will find some interest in 'Looking Back.'"

"Of course, the names of my children will be changed, but their pictures, drawn by a well-known artist, will make up the illustrations. And anyone knowing them will easily recognize who's who."

"I have told many of the incidents in the book to my little grandsons, the children of the Duchess of Marlborough, and they've asked for more, so I thought if these tales of my children give pleasure to my grandchildren, might they not interest and entertain others?"

MRS. O. H. P. BELMONT.

Swain Can't See Bride Until Fourth Visit--in Africa

The marriage customs of West and Southwest Africa are in many cases peculiar. A coastal tribe always considers itself superior to an inland tribe, and even its meanest members claims to rank higher than the most powerful man of an up-country tribe. A man may marry any woman he likes in any tribe, it being held that he gives her his own status, whatever that may be, but it is almost unheard of for a woman to marry "beneath" her. As a result some of the women of the most superior coastal tribes like the Mongvies look to marriage with white men and frequently attain to it.

The parents on both sides rule absolutely in the matter of marriage between natives. First, the would-be bridegroom goes empty handed to obtain the consent of the bride's father. Then he goes again with gifts, and the father calls in other members of the family to view the gifts. On the third visit he carries trade goods, a sufficiently poisonous compound, generally from Hamburg. In the old days it was palm oil or wine.

On this occasion he pays over an installment of the dowry. On the fourth visit he takes his parents with him, and is permitted to see the girl herself. When next he calls his prospective mother-in-law provides a feast for himself and his relatives, the host and hostess eating nothing, but taking a hand in the drinking. Finally the man goes with gifts and the balance of the dowry and takes the woman away. On arrival at his village she is welcomed with singing and a strenuous dance called "nkanga."

For three months the bride is not required to do any work, but after that she buckles to with his other wives at gardening and carrying burdens. Polygamy is general, and the number of a man's wives is limited only by his resources in the matter of paying dowries. The man may divorce his wives whenever he chooses and for almost any reason. But it is rare for a woman to be able to obtain divorce at her own wish. Divorce entails the return of the dowry.

Heiress With Desire to Marry, Duped Once, Tries to Wed Again, but Fails Because She Has No Divorce

NEW YORK—Miss Jeanette Suffern, the eccentric heiress of Suffern, N. Y., and who is really Mrs. Hisecock until she gets a formal annulment, said yesterday that she would find a satisfactory husband if she had to keep on marrying and divorcing candidates until eighty years old. She is sixty-five years old now.

"You can say, too," Miss Suffern added, "that I will not enlist the service of a matchmaker again. They don't know their business, and besides they're too expensive."

This statement, Miss Suffern admitted, applied particularly to David Tobin, manager of Van Horn's Livery stable at Ridgewood, N. J., who started suit against her in the Ridgewood District Court yesterday, claiming she agreed to give him $250 if he furnished her with "a man who would marry her."

"I introduced Miss Suffern to 'Bob' Hisecock, a hostler at my stable," explained Mr. Tobin. "A few hours after she was married to Hisecock by Justice of the Peace Keys, at Patterson. That was on September 23. Hisecock, it transpired, already had a wife, and has disappeared, but that isn't my fault. I carried out my contract when I got her a man who would marry her."

"Tobin didn't get me a husband," Miss Suffern said, when seen at Patterson, where she is staying with friends. "Hisecock was already married, and my lawyer says I am just as free as I ever was and can marry 'my Simon.'"

Miss Suffern explained "my Simon" was her latest prospective husband. She said he also is a hostler at Van Horn's Ridgewood stable, but would tell no more, other than to admit that, on Thursday night, she and "my Simon" went to Justice Keys to be married. He refused to tie the knot, saying he had married her once and believed she would have to get an annulment.

Matchmaker Tobin supplied the missing details.

"Miss Suffern drove up to the stable on October 7," he said, "and complained that I hadn't furnished her with a husband. Simonds—that's his name—was standing in the stable door in his overalls, and I advised him to speak to Miss Suffern if he was anxious to get a rich wife."

"Simonds walked over to Miss Suffern's carriage, talked to her not more than five minutes, came back and borrowed a decent suit from one of the other men and drove off with her. Simonds came back the other day and said he and Miss Suffern were going to be married soon. In the meantime, he explained, she was giving him an allowance of $10 a day. So you see she's really indebted to me for Simonds, too."

Tobin exhibited some letters he had received with offers of marriage to Miss Suffern. One, signed "Frank Rice, General Delivery, Brooklyn," said in part:

"I am fifty-three years old and have been a widower for about seven years. I have a son eighteen. Neither of us smoke, drink or chew. We are tired of living alone."

Another note, saying, "I am thirty years old, six feet tall and am looking for a wife. It does not make any difference as to her age," was signed, William Lafferty, 989 Columbus avenue, Manhattan.

Tobin started his suit by attaching a team of boys. The suit will be tried next Tuesday.

"He can take the horses before I'll pay him," Miss Suffern told her counsel, J. W. De Voe of Patterson. "I've got seven horses in my stable at Glen Rock and two more at my Ramsey, N. Y., home."

Miss Suffern is said to be worth $300,000. She said yesterday that T. Suffern Toller is her cousin and that the late Pierre Lorillard's first wife was her father's sister.

Husband Whose Wife Gave Him $12,000 'Pin Money' ASKS DIVORCE

EL PASO, Texas.—The divorce suit of James G. Darden of Albuquerque, N. M., against Fannie V. van Riper Darden of New York was called for trial the other day at Las Cruces, N. M. Mrs. Darden is contesting the suit. She is accompanied by her maid, W. D. Van Vleet, Mrs. F. L. Kirby, P. J. Britt and valet and K. van Riper.

The divorce suit was filed in New Mexico October 12, 1907, after a romantic courtship and wedding in New York and a separation in Pasadena, Cal., where Mrs. Darden bought a winter home.

Darden, the Beau Brummell of Albuquerque, N. M., went to New York to mining business and stopped at the New Netherlands Hotel early in October, 1906.

In company with James Parsons, assistant cashier of the Chemical National Bank, he went to the theater and there was introduced to pretty Mrs. Fannie Van Riper and a friend, Mrs. Burr. Next day, according to Darden's divorce bill, Mrs. Van Riper took him automobile.

On October 29 they were married and the next day she gave him $12,000 for "pin money." She continued to give him large sums of money, he declares, and they got along fine until he wanted to return to Albuquerque, when she refused to go. He says that he accompanied her to New York from Pasadena, and that at Old Point Comfort she tried to get him to let her detective catch him with another woman so she could get a divorce.

In her cross-bill Mrs. Darden declares that she did not refuse to go to New Mexico, but admits giving her husband all the money he alleges, totalling in all about a hundred thousand dollars, but she says most of it was either loaned or given for investing for herself. She says she wanted to go to Albuquerque with her husband but he told her the men were all gamblers and the women were no better. She asks for the money back and that she be given a divorce.

Nebraska Judge Rules That Women Can Ransack Husband's Pockets

OMAHA.—In disposing of the divorce case of Henry Mills and Mary Mills, Judge Crawford made this declaration: "Under the laws of Nebraska a wife has a legal and undisputed right to go through the pockets of her husband, providing she does so without first putting him in fear."

Mills had brought suit against his wife, alleging cruelty. Among other things he charged that after he had gone to bed his wife went through his pockets and extracted the coin that he had earned as his daily wage. This, he averred, she related, giving him only an allowance of fifteen cents per day, ten cents for carfare to and from work and five cents to spend on riotous living. The balance of the money, averaging about $1.85 per day, she retained.

In his testimony Mills swore "that whenever he wanted to go out of an evening and 'have a time with the boys,' he had to 'take his wife into his confidence, telling her just how much he intended to spend and for what purpose it was to be spent. Then if she thought the expenditure was justified she turned the sum over to him."

In passing upon the case Judge Crawford ordered a dismissal, holding that cruelty had not been proved.

Detailing these things, Mills testified that he considered it cruelty of the worst kind and it convinced him that it was a case where the laborer was not worth his hire. He declared that his wife treated him like a servant instead of a husband and compelled him to perform the most menial tasks, but all of this he could and would patiently stand in the event his wife would cease frisking his pockets.

"It is all right in its opinion stated that it is all court for a wife to go through the pockets of her husband and extract the coin that she finds, yet it would be illegal to insert her hand into the pocket of another man. That is a privilege," added the Court, "that only wives are entitled to."

Marie Corelli Suggests Real Test for Suffragists

LONDON.—Marie Corelli in a magazine article relates her entire disapproval of women in politics. Nevertheless, she would be willing to enfranchise women if they proved able to meet the test she suggests.

"Let the suffragettes," she says, "acquire a building, furnish it like the House of Commons and handle for three years the same subjects being dealt with by the members of Parliament."

"If the women during that period are guileless of any violent, clatrap orations, if they show themselves wiser than the men, let them vote."

Love at First Sight by Creator; Bandmaster Weds

DETROIT, Mich.—Miss Emma Orpha Calamara, daughter of the late bandmaster Calamara, of Chicago, was in the first audience that Bandmaster Francisco Creatore faced at Wayne Casino a week ago. Today she is his wife.

The romance came about through a letter written to Creatore by the girl's mother requesting him to include certain Italian selections in his program.

He called on Mrs. Calamara and her daughter and it was love at first sight.

Love Letter and Engagement Ring Found in Bird's Nest

NEW YORK.—In a chestnut tree felled yesterday on James T. Brinker's farm at Jacksonville, N. J., there was found a bird's nest containing Mrs. Brinker's engagement ring that disappeared fifteen years ago. There were ten other rings in the nest, stuck pins and a gold brooch.

The first love letter Brinker sent to his wife when he was courting her was

NEW CARPENTERS' HALL IS DEDICATED TO LABOR'S USE

Hundreds Attend Exercises, Which Are Replete With Oratory—Mayor Mott
Compliments Builders

Oakland's beautiful new industrial home, Carpenters' Hall, was formally dedicated last night to the purposes of organized labor by Carpenters Union No. 32, together with a large representation from all the union councils in this jurisdiction and many invited guests.

The audience that was gathered within the main assembly hall presented a brilliant sight of well-dressed women, the wives, mothers, daughters and sweethearts of the industrial factors of this city and their well-groomed escorts.

INFORMAL EXERCISES

The exercises were of an informal nature and after the musical introduction by Donaldson's orchestra, President W. J. Atkinson of Carpenters Union No. 32 stated the purpose of the gathering and introduced Walter Matthews, the architect of the building who told how well it had been constructed and was reared to endure as the home of labor.

Mayor Frank K. Mott was introduced and made a congratulatory address.

"The organization is the spirit of the times," said the Mayor, "and the best efforts of men are put forth where he co-operates with his fellows. The man who does not believe in organization, whether in labor or in other avenues of the world's activities, is of an age that has long since passed."

"This temple of industry is a tribute to the progressive spirit that prevails in your organization and it is a tribute to your striving for the higher things and nobler ideals that are the inspiration of American citizenship."

IS CITY'S BETTERMENT

"Coincident with your contribution to the uplifting of Oakland is the momentous movement for the great betterment of our city in the reclaiming of the harbor and the improvement of the water front."

"This building erected by you gives evidence that the problem now before us engrosses your attention and elicits your co-operation and support. This magnificent building set apart for your own use and purpose asserts your independence. With splendid wharves and docks we establish our commercial independence and open the way for thousands of new homes and scores of industries which provide work and employment for our people."

FOR NEW HARBOR

"I do not intend to go into the details of the project for harbor improvement as I know that you appreciate what is provided for and will give your hearty support and co-operation in furthering that which upholds our common city."

This project of harbor improvements agrees with those impulses which inspired you to put forth the efforts in the building of this beautiful structure which is a credit to yourselves and an ornament to the city. It causes one to take heart when such men as you come together and contribute to the uplifting of the city with such a structure. I congratulate you on the final completion of this temple of labor and hope that it will serve as an inspiration to still greater effort on the part of all our citizens to build our common city."

Brother Victory contributed a solo after which Hon. Charles F. Curry, secretary of State, was introduced by President Atkinson as "one well known to us all and a friend of labor."

"I congratulate you upon the completion of this magnificent temple which stands as testimony to progressive spirit of labor. We live in an age of invention, organization and commercial enterprise. Great combinations are essential to modern civilization. It is necessary for capital to organize and labor must organize to wrest from capital its just share of reward. Between the two there is no conflict."

"The American capitalist of today was the American laboring man of yesterday and from among the ranks of the American mechanics of today we look for the capitalist of tomorrow."

IN CONCRETE AND STEEL

"Labor, union and organized labor, has reared to itself a monument that all the world can see, in the rebuilding of San Francisco in concrete and steel. Three years ago the stricken city lay in wreck and ashes and today it stands more magnificent than before, a miracle wrought by organized labor. No man of sense objects to legitimate organization. It is made imperative in all avenues by the necessities of the day and I am one who shares no pessimistic views as to the final outcome of our tendencies in society, religion, government and other activities of the day."

"I believe we are privileged to live in the best age that has ever come upon the earth and the progress we have made inspires the question as to what the world will be 500 years hence. You and I have our work to do on earth and it is our great duty to see that humanity is elevated by a union of our efforts, that we get our rights and our neighbor gets his."

OBSERVE CLOSE LINE

"In all these matters of life we must observe the line between liberty and license if we seek to perpetuate the glories of our country and preserve its institutions."

Henry Meyer of San Mateo was introduced and after expressing his congratulations upon the completion of a new mile post in the onward march of labor, pointed to the mighty work before us in the suppression of child labor and ameliorating the condition of women workers.

CITES EARLY HISTORY

He said it was the carpenters' guild that furnished the hall at Philadelphia in which the first congress formulated and from which was issued the Declaration of Independence. The carpenters were also credited with being the first to promote the public school system.

Superior Judge Everett Brown congratulated the carpenters on the handsome new building and declared that child labor the crimes of youth and the felonies of the mature.

JUDGE BROWN SPEAKS

"Poor little shavers, when instead of going to school," said the judge, "they have thrust upon their row shoulders burdens that should be borne by men."

He concluded by saying:

"There is no position greater than being an American laboring man."

Fred B. Probst, affectionately gave a testimonial of the hall as "Dad's Place." District Attorney Donahue amused the audience by declaring that his invitation read differently from that sent the Mayor in that he had been asked to bring his wife. He said he had declined the fair sex present suggested to his mind the biblical injunction that it was not good for man to be alone and he hoped the Mayor would see it in the same way.

"I started in life as a carpenter and took a hand at blacksmithing," said the speaker, "but abandoned them both to become a poor lawyer."

MUSICAL PROGRAM

The speaker said dissatisfaction was the bane of Contentment. "With your position in life is the greatest blessing you can enjoy," said Donahue. "We enjoy advantages in the land that are given nowhere else on earth. Labor has become intelligent and has raised itself to the highest plane. But over the farmer and toiler makes the mistake of inspiring in his children the ambition to become doctors and lawyers where it too often happens they fail and become criminals. Remember the greatest tragedy of all mankind was a carpenter of Nazareth."

The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing, in which to accommodate all, the three great halls of the building were used.

INHERITANCE TAX PROTEST IS FILED

Widow of James Coffin Declares Part of Estate Is Her Own

SAN RAFAEL, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Sarah L. Coffin, executrix of the will of her husband, James Coffin, and his sole legatee, of Ross, Marin county, has filed suit to avoid the payment of a collateral inheritance tax of $302.

Mrs. Coffin rendered her final account several months ago. The tax was fixed by Appraiser George H. Marlan. Now Mrs. Coffin, through her attorneys, Jesse W. Callaghan, Albert Raymond and Allen J. Kottke, has brought suit against the State of California, alleging that at the time of her husband's death there was standing in his name real and personal property which appears in the inventory which was her separate property. She claims that the property is not subject to State collateral inheritance tax and prays judgment accordingly.

Coffin was heavily interested in the Union Sugar Company. He died December 31, 1906, leaving a will bequeathing everything to his wife. He left three daughters, Marion Coffin Ebb, wife of Attorney J. Shepard Ebb, and Natalie and Sarah DeWitt Coffin. The estate was appraised January 15, 1907, at $329,714.61 and again April 30, 1907, at $367,824.94. In the appraisement for the collateral tax the value is fixed at $453,372.25. Among the properties of the estate are 1846 shares of Union Sugar Company and 2000 shares of the Northern California Power Company.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY

How to Save $2 on Cough Medicine by Making it at Home.

Cough medicines, as a rule, are mostly Syrup. To make the best syrup, take a pint of Granulated Sugar, add to it warm water, and stir about 2 minutes.

Get two and one-half ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), put it in a clean pint bottle, and fill up with the Granulated Sugar Syrup. This makes a full pint of unequalled cough syrup, for about 54 cents. Keep perfectly. You could not buy as much ready-made cough syrup for $2.50.

This home-made remedy is pleasant to take, and usually stops even the most obstinate cough in twenty-four hours. It is splendid, too, for colds, whooping cough, bronchial ailments, etc. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The Sugar Syrup is an excellent sedative. The Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract, rich in all the healing elements of Norwegian pine. Be sure to use the real Pinex itself. Your druggist has it or can easily get it for you.

Strained honey can be used instead of the syrup, and makes a very fine honey and pine tar cough syrup.

COMPLICATIONS IN CEMENT DEAL

Suit for Recovery of Money Due on Notes Causes Counter Charges

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—In the answer filed by the Standard Portland Cement corporation in the suit brought against it in the name of D. C. Norcross, the secretary of the Western Building Material company, of which John L. Howard is president, for the recovery of $51,000, alleged to be due on notes signed by William J. Dingee and Irving A. Bachman.

The answer alleges that in August, 1906, Dingee, Howard and Bachman organized the Northwestern Portland Cement company. Dingee and Bachman had previously promoted and organized the Standard Portland Cement company, the Standard Cement corporation and the Santa Cruz Portland Cement company.

Howard secured the exclusive control of the output of the incipient cement trust for the Western Fuel company, of which he is general manager, and the Western Building Material company, of which he is president, by contracts which gave these firms the control of the business of the cement companies.

The Northwestern was capitalized at $5,000,000, with 50,000 shares, of which Howard took 8000 and Dingee and Bachman 15,000 each. They then authorized a bond issue of $2,000,000.

The answer further alleges that Howard took 100 of the bonds, a part of which he sold to his companies and friends, some of them going to British Columbia. The company realized $253,000 from the sale, and was supposed to use the money for building a plant in Whatcom county in Washington. But the bondholders soon discovered that nothing of the kind was being done. They sent experts to examine the books, who reported that the funds were being used to satisfy other properties and they threatened prosecution unless they were repaid to satisfy their demands.

At a meeting of the directors of the Standard Portland Cement company a resolution was passed authorizing them to buy 100 of the bonds of the Northwestern, giving the notes of the Standard corporation in payment.

Another feature of the deal contained in the charges preferred in the answer is that Howard, in order to induce Dingee to use the credit of the Standard Portland Cement Corporation, turned back his 8000 shares in the Northwestern company and that subsequently these shares were returned by Dingee into the treasury of the Northwestern instead of being delivered to the Standard.

MIDNIGHT ATTACK ENDS MANEUVERS

Thirtieth Infantry Back in Camp After Playing at War Game

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—After three days of field maneuvers, including a night attack on outposts with a retreating light of a baggage train under convoy, a battalion of the Thirtieth Infantry, under command of Major M. R. Day, returned to the Presidio and Fort Mason yesterday.

Major Day expressed himself as being well pleased with the maneuvers. The attack on the supply train at Colma and its retreat to the Presidio was a pretty bit of field tactics.

The wagons, heavily convoyed, left camp on the Ocean boulevard early yesterday morning. Upon arriving at Colma that part of the infantry which was not guarding the supply train appeared in the guise of enemies and set upon the convoy. After a sharp but brief engagement the officer in command of the train realized that the opposing force was too strong for him, and he ordered a retreat.

For the entire distance back to camp the convoy closed about the rear of the wagon train and fought off the ever-following enemy.

As a practice maneuver it is considered one of the best held recently. The men took a keen interest in the attack and long re-arranged battle.

REPEL NIGHT ATTACK

On Tuesday night, in their camp on the Ocean boulevard near Nineteenth avenue, the sleeping troops were aroused to repel a midnight attack. Companies were quickly formed and a firing line drawn up. This proved also to be a most valuable drill.

During the other two days of the march a variation of field maneuvers was practiced. So strenuous were the drills that the troops returned yesterday as if from real war, quite willing to rest about their barracks for a day or two.

Orders issued yesterday from headquarters Department of California, Lieutenant-Colonel Henry S. T. Harris, Medical Director, to the Hawaiian Islands on the next transport. He will study the hygiene and sanitary conditions at the various military posts in the islands. He will return to his post here as soon as his investigation has been completed.

GERMAN SOLDIERS CRUISER'S GUESTS

Captain Schroder of the Ar-

Kriegerverein

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The only festivities on the foreign men-of-war visiting the city were given by Captain Schroder and his officers of the German cruiser Arcona, who were guests of the Deutscher Kriegerverein of this city. Last Sunday this organization, which is made up of former German soldiers and sailors, and has 300 members in San Francisco, gave a banquet to the Arcona's officers, and yesterday's function was a returning party.

The members of the Deutscher Kriegerverein were headed by their president, Captain Van Voss, returned yesterday afternoon to an anchorage off Polson street, to remain a short time before returning to the Orient. The final destination of the Nord Brabant is Batavia, Java, where it will arrive in about a month. Orders were received yesterday for this city for the Portola festivities. The vessel will leave Saturday morning, going first to Honolulu.

Accordingly in the week, the British cruiser Bedford weighed anchor in man-of-war row, off Polson street, yesterday morning and moved over to the Alameda City Point Naval Coaling Station to fill the bunkers. From the station the Bedford will sail directly to Hongkong tomorrow, for Monterey, for a three days' stay before returning to Hongkong to remain for the remainder of the week. The Bedford was missed yesterday in man-of-war row by the general public, as well as by the friends and acquaintances of Captain Fitzherbert and his officers and men, who became very popular during their sojourn here.

The Dutch cruiser Noord Brabant, Captain Van Voss, returned yesterday afternoon to an anchorage off Polson street, to remain a short time before returning to the Orient. ## You'll ultimately want to live at the head of Lake Merritt so read about it now—

If the owner of a $10,000 lot in Adams Point should come to you and say: "I'll sell you my lot for $1800 on terms of about $200 down and $20 a month," you'd jump at the chance, wouldn't you?

And yet it is more than likely that five years ago you could have bought that very lot for less than a thousand dollars.

History is going to repeat itself as sure as fate and Grand Avenue Heights is going to grow into the finest residential district in the city of Oakland, and when it does $10,000 won't begin to buy some of its choice lots.

A strong statement?

Yes, indeed it is a strong statement, doubly strong, because it is a TRUE statement.

Do you know that some of the most beautiful of Oakland's city parks are going to be built right at the head of Lake Merritt, almost at the foot of Grand Avenue Heights?

Do you know that Grand Avenue Boulevard is going to be one of the greatest promenades for fashionable equipages in this county?

Do you know that Grand Avenue Heights is within the city limits of Oakland and that it only takes nine minutes to reach it from Fourteenth and Broadway, and that ultimately an electric line will run down Grand Avenue Boulevard?

Do you know that the climate of Grand Avenue Heights is even finer than the climate of Claremont?

Do you know that from some of these lots you can see the Golden Gate, the hills of Piedmont, Oakland's magnificent park sites, Lake

Merritt and on a clear day as far south as Palo Alto?

Do you know that a year ago there wasn't a house on the tract or a dollar's worth of street work done, and that today there are over $80,000 worth of houses, and that every home has the street built past it, and that they're all connected up with water, sewers, gas and electricity?

The progress Grand Avenue Heights has made in the past year is marvelous. In another year it will rival Adams Point, and after that there is no telling what it may grow to.

You must go out and see it now.

You can buy a lot, on terms, and make thousands by reselling it in two or three years—or you can buy and build and feel sure that you have a home in the finest section, socially, geographically and climatically in the city of Oakland.

You'll ultimately want to live at the head of Lake Merritt—but if you put off buying your lot you'll either have to pay a big price or be satisfied with an inferior lot.

$1800 buys a good lot now. It will cost you a thousand dollars additional for every year you wait. Mark our words; for we've watched this section carefully.

VANDERBILT'S SKILL AVERTS AUTO WRECK

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—While traveling at the rate of 50 miles an hour around a turn on his automobile cup course, a tire burst on a front wheel of a car William K. Vanderbilt Jr. was piloting.

Only by exerting his skill did he succeed in preventing the machine from leaping into a ditch and turning over.

There is a sharp corner leading to the Garden City hotel from the course, and as he started to turn it the tire on the front wheel burst. Vanderbilt held a firm grip on the steering wheel, and as the car skidded he yanked it back and brought it to a stop less than 100 feet beyond the turn.

FRANK J. GOULD SECRETLY WEDS?

London Hotel Makes An Announcement That Creates Great Surprise

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Has Frank Jay Gould secretly married again following the divorce decree granted to his wife late in the spring?
This question is puzzling all Americans in London after the formal announcement from the Savoy Hotel where the young American millionaire has been stopping for several days and which reads like the announcement of a marriage. It was as follows:
Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Gould and suite left the Savoy Hotel today for Paris.
The announcement was issued after the departure of Gould and he could not be located by telephone. Paris last night. The hotel management will make no comment except to assume the attitude that Gould's marriage is no secret and that he was stopping at the hotel with Mrs. Gould and their servants. They failed to identify the woman they call the wife of Gould except that she is Mrs. Gould and a remarkably beautiful woman.

GREAT SURPRISE
Friends of the young millionaire in London declare after the formal announcement and that the announcement from the Savoy Hotel is a great surprise to all of them. They do not know whether a mistake has been made by the hotel or whether Mr. Gould was married secretly and managed to conceal the facts from his friends while he was in London.

AN IMPETUOUS WOOER
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—It is recalled here that Mr. Gould showed himself to be impetuous in his wooing on the occasion of his first marriage to Miss Helen Kelly. They made up their minds to get married on a Sunday night. Mrs. Kelly told them "All right, and the minister will be called to the altar on Monday day. The friends of the Goulds and friends of the Kelly family were present and they were married within twenty-four hours after they had made up their minds.

Perhaps Mr. Gould has named another's wife, said a friend who lodged in the same hotel last night.

FREE TO MARRY
Except for the custody of the children the divorce of Frank Gould and his wife was made absolute. It is decreed by Justice Gerard and further by the payment by the young millionaire of a lump sum to his wife in lieu of dower. It was rumored her when he arrived that an understanding had been reached by which his two little girls were to be placed almost entirely in the hands of his sister, Miss Helen Gould who has been devoted to them.

The divorce decree left Gould free to marry again without affecting his terms in any way. It was provided, however, that if his wife married again the custody of the children as divided by the remarkable decree will rest more in the father than with the mother as at present provided.

"THE THIRD DEGREE" IS NOT COMING HERE

EDITOR TRIBUNE: I have been reading with considerable interest your comments on "The Third Degree" now being played at the Van Ness Theater. San Francisco. I myself and friends approve of all you have said. Oakland does not want that third rate play to come to the Macdonough Theater. Our people are loyal to the city. When a manager advertises that his company will not play Oakland you can rest assured that Oakland people do not want to see his show. For the reason that they are certain it is very bad. This is the case with "The Third Degree" which is now playing to empty chairs at the Van Ness Theater. I am informed that the performance last night was a failure and that the house was worse. It is pleasing to note that the show is a failure because it is notice to the Eastern managers that our people are not as glib as they imagine that they know a good play when they see it and that they know a third rate company when it pretends to be a first class organization.

A little more advertising on the part of "The Third Degree" manager that the company will not play Oakland will put the show out of business in my opinion.

The story goes that "The Third Degree" is about to play in all the barnstorming towns in the state.

TO GET BALLOON IF SHE WINS RACE

Father of Miss Miller Offers Novel Prize to Winner of Aerial Contest

Proud of the feat of his daughter, Miss Margaret Miller, who with a charming smile set the pace for women balloonists in California when she soared aloft in the big gas bag City of Oakland in a recent contest for supremacy of the air between the local aero club and the San Francisco organization. James Miller, the retired pottery manufacturer of East Oakland has offered a special and very much worth while prize to the young woman for her next feat.

BALLOON IS PRIZE
Miller's prize to be bestowed on his daughter if she, Oakland, wins with the City of Oakland. It will have a capacity of 120,000 cubic feet or 900 cubic feet more than the largest balloon ever constructed. This task of the big bag will be equal to carrying 18 or 20 passengers with ballast.

Miss Miller is to make her second ascension next Sunday from Twelfth and Market streets in the same balloon which was entered in the San Francisco contest. In the second race several days ago. Although Oakland is said to have won the contest for the handsome silver trophy cup which is offered fairly and honestly there has been considerable discussion on the part of the San Francisco club and that there may be no dissatisfaction the balloons are to contest again.

The change was magic. Three bottles completely fixed that compound cold and stopped the terrible cough—and what surprised me most, at the same time it cured me of a severe stomach trouble that has bothered me for 20 years. Vinol is certainly a wonderful medicine."

Mr. Toppan is one of Lynn's most prominent and highly respected merchants, whose word is as good as his bond.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the two most world-famed tonics—the medicinal, strengthening, body-building elements of Cod Liver Oil and Tonic Iron.

MACKAY IN FLYING VISIT TO COAST

Talks Over Business Matters of Postal With Subordinates —Here 12 Hours

In a flying trip through the west Clarence Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph company arrived in San Francisco yesterday, staying here less than twelve hours. In his private car, accompanied by Charles C. Adams, third vice-president of the company, and Colonel George Harvey, editor of Harper's Weekly, he reached here late yesterday morning and the party went immediately to the Fairmont for luncheon.

Mackay then visited the local offices of the Postal company and held a short conference with the local managers regarding the new lines being constructed in the west. Although his trip was chiefly for the purpose of visiting the University of Nevada to dedicate the Mackay athletic field there which occurred on Saturday last Mackay is making the trip an official tour of inspection of the new lines of the west and middle west.

At 11:45 o'clock last night the party left and Mackay will make an inspection of the new Postal line between Oakland, Sacramento, Reno and Salt Lake. The party will then return to the northwest and visit Seattle, where a brief stay will be made for the purpose of looking into the conditions of the cable lines to the north.

On the return east the news lines and telegraph conditions of the middle west will be investigated and it is possible that as a result new lines will be established.

Last evening Horace Platt, R. E. Day and W. Martin met Mackay's party at dinner and for three hours they talked over business matters.

Just before his departure today, Mackay said that the company was pursuing a policy of broadening all its lines and extending into new territories.

DEMAND THAT TRACTION COMPANY FILL MUDHOLE

Editor TRIBUNE: Knowing that your paper is ever ready to stand by the people, I wish to call your attention to the outrageous treatment the people of Fruitvale avenue and vicinity are receiving from the rich and overbearing Oakland Traction Company. While replacing its track on Fruitvale avenue with heavier rails it leaves long stretches for the people to walk and runs its cars to connect with other Traction cars without regard to connection with the trains to San Francisco. This causes many people who must be in San Francisco on time to lose their train.

With very little expense the company could run an automobile between the spaces while renewing its track.

This company has for years left a mudhole for women and children to wade through during the rainy season at one of its best junctions Fruitvale avenue and Twentieth street, though they have been asked often to fill up the space between its cars and the sidewalk with a few loads of broken stones. This rich company has power beyond the law. The people should know who the individual managers are who so high-handedly show no regard for their patrons, the people. Respectfully,
A. HARPENDING

PROSPECTOR SAW COOK AFTER MCKINLEY CLIMB

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—O. E. King, a Nome mining man now in Los Angeles, was in the vicinity of Mount McKinley when Dr. Frederick A. Cook made his ascent of the mountain, and has no doubt that the doctor got on top.
"I was prospecting on the Susitna river at the time," said King today, "and met Cook and talked with him both before and after the ascent. He told us that he had come there to go to the top of the mountain. He was the kind of man who inspires confidence, and no one among the men who listened to the account of his trip doubted the truth of his statement that he had reached the top of the peak. He had instruments with him and took observations and as told us the height of the mountain.
"I am still unshaken in my belief that he got there irrespective of the denials that have been made. At the time I made entries in my diary of the incident. This book is now in Seattle."

Lew Powell Is Ready for the Battle With Frayne

RED-HAired FIGHTER LOOKS TO BE IN BEST CONDITION

Resents the Frayne Talk That He Will Win by Knockout—Jeffries and Johnson Must Give Public Fight Information

By EDDIE SMITH.

THAT the twenty round contest between Johnnie Frayne and Lew Powell will not be a pink tea where the men will drink from the same loving cup was best shown yesterday when Lew Powell finished reading an evening paper when Frayne was quoted as saying that he would put a few holes in the armor plate of Powell and make him crawl on his hands and knees to his corner, a beaten fighter.

Powell is a modest sort of a fellow with very little to say in fact, so many people misjudge him, yet when the arena was thoroughly digested he turned loose and before he had finished reading an evening paper when Frayne was quoted as saying that he would put a few holes in the armor plate of Powell and make him crawl on his hands and knees to his corner, a beaten fighter.

ST. MARY'S BEATS U.P. TEAM 16 TO 5

Rugby Men of Methodist School Outclassed by Local Collegians

In a rugby match in which the visitors were outclassed in every department of the game the St. Mary's College team yesterday afternoon on the local grounds, 16 to 5. Throughout the contest the ball was in the territory of the Pacific as the visitors were unable to get the ball into the line in the time when they made their solitary try and converted the goal. They were unable to stop the splendid scrum work and rushes of the collegians. Before the game was five minutes old St. Mary's scored five points. Dickson succeeded in executing the try and Davies converted. It did not take many minutes before Hughes took advantage of a scrum play and snatched the ball on the five-yard line, carrying it over the line, whereupon Davies converted again. The Pacific score came on a nice run by Moverly, O'Connell missing the tackle.

In the second half St. Mary's scored twice from five-year scrums, but neither goal was kicked. Many chances were missed by frequent penalization. Jones, Donnelly, Clinton and O'Connell played for a few minutes on St. Mary's side, but the second half was strengthened for the Pacific team by three Barbarian players. Moverly, Hudson and Turner, in accordance with an arrangement made between the Rugby managers of the university and St. Mary's. Both sides played clean football.

Divon, St. Mary's captain, furnished the spectacular work of the afternoon. In spite of his tendency to play American football, in several places he dashed through a scattered field for good gains and he fought every minute. Moverly, Turner and Hudson, for the Pacific boys, did excellent defensive work. The teams lined up as follows:

St. Mary's: Divon, captain; Jones, Donnelly, Clinton, O'Connell, Moverly, Hudson, Turner, Sturges, three-quarters; Stender, fullback. Pacific: Moverly, captain; Jones, Donnelly, Clinton, O'Connell, Moverly, Hudson, Turner, Sturges, three-quarters; Stender, fullback.

BRECKENRIDGE CONQUERS SEALS

Pitches Farewell Game in Great Style, Allowing but Three Hits

(BY HERMAN F. BUDD.)
LIFE is what you make it and in a great measure so is a baseball game. Breckenridge was disposed to show the Seals just what he could do when he wanted to and his ability could not be better detailed than in the box score which credits Santa Francisco with only three hits and no runs.

That's just the calibre of ball Breckenridge twirled in his farewell game. Last night after the exhibition he packed up his belongings and took the first train for Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, where he has a government position awaiting him. He certainly did himself proud and all the old folks, boys and girls at home will find him as a conquering hero when he steps off the cars.

Two of the three hits were scratches. More than that he was there with the water field for two hours just at the right time scoring a fellow citizen and his fielding average for the day is 1000. There was no lack of support on his side. Every chance was taken up without a sign of a bobble. As a matter of fact the ball rolled into the fielders' hands as if it were coming along a groove.

"PINK" BODIE PITCHES.
Opposed to Breck Breckenridge was "Pink" Bodie. His work was good in spots, his fielding was commendable but he had the misfortune of hanging out the Seals' flag every time the enemy poked their battering rams at him. In the second and fourth rounds the Villagers had him chloroformed and while he was under the influence the bell tolled off five times, twice in the first frame and three in the last.

Second inning when he whizzed the ball in Coy's and Eagan's midsection. Singles by Doreaux and Brown was all that was needed to score the two tallies. The other three tallies were engineered by four Vermonters: Doreaux, Stoval and McCoy cracked out singles and Breckenridge subscribed to the movement with a double.

In several of the other rounds Bodie came near being swept into the whirling eddies by the undertow but just about the time he was being pulled down he was pulled up by the storm some kind of Seal player would throw out the life line and he squirmed out of the predicament in safety.

"Red" Davis undertook to cut a few capers during the short season he held the stage. In the first place he celebrated the occasion of his initial trip to the plate by fouling thirteen times, secondly just because he was called out the second time at bat when he grounded out. McCoy yelled "You're rotten," to Van Halten.

The umpire then rattled his judicial hand and fined "Red" $5. "Botten, rotten" again vociferated Davis. "You're out of the game," came the echo and Davis flew to the clubhouse like a dog with a lead tied to his tail. He did not take time to say "thank you" or "three cheers for Van Halten," but made one grand sprint to the shower bath.

Forgetting his glove he rushed out of the clubhouse, made a hop, skip and jump to left field and raced back to the dressing room like a house afire. It was fine sport for Davis even if the fun did cost him a shirt.

CHAMPIONSHIP TIMBER IN BARBOUR, SAYS JEFFRIES

Lighter Bag Than Expected, Says Jeffries

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—While actively training here, James J. Jeffries has uncovered a likely candidate to wrest the heavyweight championship title of the society from Anthony Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia, who was first introduced to fame by "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien. The new candidate is Warren Barbour, son of Colonel Barbour, the thread manufacturer and social prominent.

Barbour, who says he has challenged Eddie for a fluster fight before a select audience of their friends, happened into the gymnasium here while Jeffries was training and the professional pugilist induced the amateur to box and wrestle with him. Barbour is six feet three inches tall, weighs 250 pounds and has a good deal of fighting experience. He is a native of New York and is now in the city.

Great Interest Taken in Invader-Athenian Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A. B. Lambert, the St. Louis aeronaut, who made a speed record for balloons from his own city to St. Francis, Mo., has arrived here with the offer of the Aero Club of St. Louis, which he represents, to make St. Louis the place for the international aeroplane meeting to be held in this country next year.

"As an inducement," said Mr. Lambert, "we are prepared to offer $100,000 in cash prizes and we will guarantee to hold the contests in as fine a setting as that at the recent aviation meet at Rheims, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Indianapolis and Washington have been talking as if they wanted to get the event, but none of them can compare in advantages with us. The weather, then we could offer could not be beaten. Then we have experienced with two great balloon races, one an international affair and one aeroplane exhibition.

Mr. Lambert is offering a cash prize of $20,000 to hold an aeroplane race on a given day and at a given hour, without regard to the kind of weather. He would offer a prize of $20,000 for a speed contest, $15,000 for a height contest and $25,000 to the aeroplane that would stay up longest."

FUGITIVE NINE YEARS, IN JAIL

Oakland Man Is Arrested in Philadelphia for Misuse of the Mails

George R. Chaney, former president of the Standard Oil Investment Company, and at one time secretary of the big Panchoe Oil Company, is a Federal prisoner at the county jail, where he is being held to await trial before the United States courts for fraudulent misuse of the mails in connection with his oil schemes.

Chaney was returned yesterday from Philadelphia, where he had taken up his residence under an assumed name as a fugitive from the indictments that were brought against him one year ago. Chaney is well known in this city, where he formerly represented a typewriter agency.

The secret service agents have been on his track for some years, but by change of name and occupation, as well as location, he eluded them until several weeks ago, when he was identified in Philadelphia living under an assumed name. Chaney's partner, who was arrested at the time the indictments were brought against the pair, stood trial, was convicted and sentenced by the United States district court to a term at San Quentin, which he completed several years ago.

Digs Own Mother's Grave; Collapses

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 28.—Under the care of physicians and a named nurse, 12-year-old Richard Swineford lies today at the home of a neighbor.

The boy collapsed from grief and exhaustion after his mother's body had been lowered to the grave which he labored all night to dig, because he did not have money enough to pay the sexton of Crystal Park Cemetery to do the work.

Richard, from tuberculosis, came here from Orono, Mich., early last summer. When Mrs. Swineford died there he was not more than 10 years old. He was buried in the cemetery, but he did not have money enough to pay the sexton of Crystal Park Cemetery to do the work.

After the funeral, while helping heap the fresh earth on the mound, the little fellow fell backward, and he died of the terrible strain of the last three days.

OUT OF WORK; WOULD MURDER WHOLE FAMILY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Driven to desperation by his inability to find work and crazed by the thought that his family must soon suffer for the necessities of life, John Alchimo, 1361 Noe street, yesterday wrote a letter to his only friend in this city, saying that when his remaining $35 was gone he would commit suicide, taking with him his wife and three children.

The letter was received by Attorney John J. Mazza, who has offices in the Italian building at 309 and 311 Montgomery street, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. The police were notified and the despondent Italian now occupies a cell in the City Prison.

Mazza family, whose father is now in prison, have a single dollar left, given them by a neighboring family—and this alone stands between them and actual want. Two bright, pretty, little girls, one aged thirteen and the other seven, and their nine-year-old brother, have been heard of in the police work language at one of the Mission schools, and it is through them that the mother talks, for she speaks and understands very few words of English. Added to this, she is a nervous, ill and can do little more than the household work.

A charge of uttering threats to kill can be registered against Alchimo, but through the efforts of Mazza he will probably be released as soon as work can be found for him.

DEFENSE OF DRIVER IN AUTO COLLISION

Asserting that both he and his wife were injured in a street wreck, Nineteenth and Telegraph avenue, September 9, E. H. Lohman, a real estate salesman residing at 524 Twenty-eighth street, answers the complaint of W. J. Anderson, of 665 Fifty-first street.

Anderson claims that Lohman, who was driving on the wrong side of the street on the evening in question, he struck for repairs and $200 depreciation in the value of his machine as a result.

In Judge Quinn's court, Lohman alleged that Anderson was driving at a prohibitive rate of speed and denies that his machine was on the left hand side of the road. He maintains that his wife, Fannie, sustained serious injuries in the collision and asks $250 doctors' bills together with $11 damages to the machine.

INDIAN CHARGED WITH DOZEN MURDERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Blood thirst has brought "Johnny" Donnelly, one of the big city boys, to the county jail for the charge of murdering a dozen Indians.

Donnelly is charged by the federal authorities with being the slayer of from ten to twelve men on the Hooper Valley reservation.

OVER BOYS DROWNING.

The Indian is known as a "bad one" in the resort country. He has many friends, who split the bill, and he has only by a clever ruse that he was injured in the rescue of a man who was drowning in the bay.

Donnelly was arrested by the federal authorities when he was seen at the hotel where he was staying, and he was taken to the county jail.

MORCEL WILL CONTEST POSTPONED ONE DAY

On account of the press of naturalization proceedings before Judge Ogden today the task of completing a jury in the hearing of the Morcel will contest was postponed until tomorrow.

The fight for the property, appraised at $25,000, lies between the husband of the deceased Joseph Morcel and his daughter, Mrs. Elise Mousier, by a former husband, who alleges that her mother was not legally married to Morcel, who has a wife living in France from whom he was not divorced.

POINTS OUT VAST BENEFITS NEW HARBOR WOULD BRING

Harbor Bonds Not a Debt, but an Asset Bigger than Bonds and Self-Reducing, Says J. T. Flynn, C. E.

The following article, boosting the bonds prepared by J. T. Flynn, consulting engineer for the California River and Harbor League, which has now heartily endorsed the plans of the administration.

Debt, when wisely incurred, is often a blessing. Thus is just as true of a city as of a nation. A city that owns a million dollar plant, and owes a million dollars, is still a rich man, through the dividends from the earning power of what he owns and the interest rate upon what he owes, while the man who does not own a dollar, or possess a dollar, is a poor man, notwithstanding his freedom from debt.

TO INDEPENDENCE.

Credit, or debt, as the case may be, is often a stepping stone to independence. The city that owes nothing, and owns nothing, may be free from taxes, but it is also free from business. That condition of freedom from taxes can be found upon the desert of Salina, or in any Indian hamlet, but few people through which government is maintained. Is the line of demarcation between savagery and civilization?

No public debt can be called a debt when it carries with it either a source of revenue or provision for a public improvement. San Francisco, for example, is contemplating in the forthcoming bond election.

CITES GREAT PORTS.

Among the great ports of the world, together with the list of their several dock systems, may be mentioned:

London	250,000,000
Liverpool	225,000,000
Glasgow	225,000,000
Bristol	24,000,000
Hamburg	72,000,000
Rotterdam	72,000,000
Havre	39,000,000
Antwerp	44,000,000
Bremen	48,000,000
Manchester	75,000,000
Buenos Ayres	35,000,000
Rio de Janeiro	28,000,000
Marseilles	28,000,000
Amsterdam	36,000,000
Valparaiso	35,000,000
San Pedro de Macoris	15,000,000
Salina Cruz, Mexico	20,000,000
Manzanillo, Mexico	15,000,000

The city of New York has expended $100,000,000 on its public docks and has seen its commerce grow by leaps and bounds, while Philadelphia, which has diverted to New York City.

Profiting by previous mistakes, the cities of Philadelphia, Baltimore and New Orleans are now expending $50,000,000 in harbor improvements. In contemplation of the ocean commerce which is

DOOR TO OPPORTUNITY.

The two and one-half million dollar harbor proposed for harbor improvements not only opens a new door to opportunity to Oakland, but it leaves the city in possession of an imperishable asset, equal to the cost of the harbor, and charges its own indebtedness without any direct tax after the first year. This is simply a business proposition.

The community of Oakland, the present time amounts to $500,000 tons a year. A wharfage tax of five cents per ton, which is the rate in San Francisco, would add a direct revenue of $1,250,000 a year. And that, too, without the consideration of the enormous profits of the belt line railroad, or the revenue or revenue to be derived from factory sites, which are created in the construction of the docks, and which will ultimately reach hundreds of thousands of dollars a year.

IN FORTY YEARS.

The interest on the $2,500,000 harbor bonds at four and one-half per cent amount to $112,500 a year. A sinking fund for redemption, on a forty year basis, would amount to $2,500 a year. The administration expenses upon this amount of dockage (by reason of the fact that the Board of Public Works serves as a harbor committee without extra compensation) would not exceed $25,000 a year for the additional working force to take care of the harbor. This would be for forty years, when the entire debt would be discharged, without any direct tax.

During the first year of construction a special tax may be necessary to meet the interest upon the bonds; that tax, upon the present assessed valuation of $100,000,000, would amount to one-tenth of one per cent of one mill on the dollar, or $100,000 a year. This would be for the first year only; the additional sum of $1 for bond improvements.

ENTIRELY PAID FOR.

The State of California has expended during the last forty years the sum of $20,000,000 on the docks, wharves and the belt line railroad of San Francisco, every dollar of which has come from the taxes and interest on the bonds, and without one dollar of direct taxation to the people of the state. The

FOR WAGE EARNER.

And there is no man in the community more deeply affected by these industries than the wage earner. He is the first to feel the benefits of industrial activity, as well as the first to suffer the penalty of industrial stagnation.

The thousands of wage earning property owners of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Melrose and Hayward, who are employed in San Francisco, would, no doubt, welcome like employment on this side of the bay, where their homes are located, but that is not possible so long as Oakland's magnificent water front affords opportunity for neither the shipper nor the manufacturer through whom general employment becomes possible.

The city of Oakland, for the first time in forty-five years, is free agent, and in a position to say whether it shall become one of the great maritime cities of the world, or content itself with the average of other cities.

The decision of the United States Court of Appeals opened the closed door of opportunity by restoring the title to the water front; the harbor engineer committee, recently appointed by the mayor, laid the foundation broad and deep for harbor improvements, while the City Council expresses a unanimous desire to honestly execute the public will.

With all barriers thus removed, and an administration friendly to the great work in hand, Oakland must act now or never.

FOR YOUR HAIR

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course it is understood that if none of these cures were the hair roots dead nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

When the roots of the hair are entirely dead and the pores of the scalp are glazed over, we do not believe that anything can restore hair growth.

When Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is used as above stated, it is not strange that we have such great faith in it and that we claim it will prevent baldness when used in time. It acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed and will not gum nor permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it.

We lend our endorsement to Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and sell it on this guarantee, because we believe it is the best hair tonic ever discovered. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Member you can obtain it only at our stores—The Rexall Store, Owl Drug Co., Inc., Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cal.; Seattle, Washington.

TRAFFIC IN WHITE SLAVES LAID AT DOOR OF TAMMANY

New York Campaign Attains Sensational Interest From Magazine Article, Arousing Jewish Protest

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The infamy of Tammany's connection with the "white slave traffic" is the main issue in the present municipal campaign. Among the documents entering the fight was a letter today from the Women's Municipal League.

"The women of New York will not rest," the letter said, "until this traffic is wiped out. The burden of proof is on Tammany Hall. Tammany Hall has had the opportunity to blot out this evil, and has not raised its hand."

A hundred women prominent in social and philanthropic work were the signers. The revelations of George Kibbe Turner in McClure's Magazine concerning the extent of the infamous traffic, together with its history and ancient origin, has aroused a sensational interest and provoked a protest on the part of the Jewish community against one phase of his article, which reads as follows:

"The ancient and more familiar white slave traffic was the outright sale of women from Eastern Europe into the Orient through the big general depot of Constantinople. The chief recruiting ground for this was the miserable ghetto of Europe in the old kingdom of Poland, Poland and Austria and Russia, where the Jews were herded out of the rest of Christendom by the persecutions of the Middle Ages. This section is known from Alexandria to Shanghai for its shipment of women."

RECRUITING GROUND. The recruiting ground for the supplies of women for this trade, East or West, is always the section inhabited by the very poor. Out of this racial slum of Europe has come for unnumbered years the Jewish girl, leading the miserable Jewish girl from European civilization into Asia. The Jewish girl fought the Kaffir with all its power. In life he was ostracized; in death, dragged to an unwholy grave. But to this day he comes out of Galicia and Russian Poland, with his white face and his long black beard, badge of his ancient faith—and wanders across the face of the earth. Occasionally members of the fraternity come into New York; men of 70, sometimes, with gray beards, following their trade through life to the very end. Within the year there was in New York an individual of his profession, known as "Little Bethlehem," from the scene of his former business in Holy Land.

THE JEWISH community, by its central body representing three hundred synagogues, has adopted resolutions declaring the McClure article to be a gross insult to the Jewish people, and that no Jews are among the importers of girls for immoral purposes.

In his article Turner further charges that: "There are now three principal centers of the so-called white slave trade—that is, the recruiting and sale of young girls of the poorer classes by procurers. The first is the group of cities in Austria and Russian Poland, headed by Lemberg; the second is Paris, in the past ten years New York has become the leader of the world in this class of enterprise. The men engaged in it there have taken or shipped girls, largely obtained from the tenement districts of New York, to every continent on the globe; they are now doing business with Central and South America, Africa and Asia. They are driving all competitors before them in North America. And they have established, directly or indirectly, recruiting systems in every large city of the United States."

"The story of the introduction of this European business into New York, under the protection of the Tammany Hall political organization, its extension through the United States, and its shipments of women to the four corners of the earth, is a strange one; it would seem incredible if it were not thoroughly substantiated by the records of recent municipal exposures in half a dozen great American cities, by two independent investigations by the United States government during the past year, and by the common knowledge of the people of the East Side tenement district of New York, whose daughters and friends' daughters have been chiefly exploited by it."

THE CADET FEATURE. In the infamous business the "cadet," according to Turner's allegations, is the creature who first preys upon the young girls and deceives her into the ways that lead into the awful maelstrom.

"The cadet is a young man, averaging from 18 to 25 years of age, who, after having served a short apprenticeship as a 'watch boy' or 'light house,' secures a staff of girls and lives upon their earnings. The victim of the model is usually a young girl of Jewish birth, who knows little of anything of the conditions of American life," reads the McClure article.

OF WORLD EXTENT. Referring to the organization and ramifications of the infamous traffic and the battles that have been waged by Federal CURES REMOVE DOUBT ABOUT ECZEMA CURE Read What Your Druggist Says About Oil of Wintergreen Compound.

The Owl Drug Stores submit the following to the readers of THE TRIBUNE: For several years we have announced, with our recommendation, that we had found a positive cure for eczema; a simple skin wash, oil of wintergreen compounded with other healing ingredients. Yet we know there are people right in this town who have eczema, and still have never tried this remedy.

We have, therefore, arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special offer of a trial bottle at 25 cents instead of the $1.00 bottle as regularly sold.

We offer this trial bottle with our recommendation and assurance that just as soon as the patient washes his itching skin, this mild liquid will take the itch away instantly.

The Essence of Purity and Strength

The canny Scotch are the latest to recognize the merits of Scotch county wines. Several months ago a traveler took his samples to Glasgow and the product of our soil, sunshine and fine water was tested and found that Scotch wines have been largely discarded and this week an immense shipment of Scotch county wines was started on its way to Scotland. Of all the Alameda county wines, the Giesberger is recognized the leader.

eral, State and municipal authorities to stamp out the fearful evil, the article goes on to state:

"A detailed statement of the spread of activities of the New York dealer and cadet through the United States since the census from New York after 1901 would serve as a catalogue of the municipal scandals of the past half dozen years, and would include the majority of the large cities of the country. The New York Jewish cadets were found to be present in hundreds in San Francisco at the great expose there, and took a prominent part in the rottenness that preceded it; they were strong in Los Angeles before the disclosing of conditions in their line of business changed the administration there a year ago; and two of the most notorious dealers of New York's East Side were prominent figures in the political underworld uncovered by Folk in St. Louis. Today this ancient slum in all the greater cities; they swarm at the gateway of the Alaskan frontier at Seattle; they infest the streets and restaurants of Boston; they flock for the winter to New Orleans; they fatten on the wages of the government laborers in Panama; in Panama, where the Jews were herded out of the rest of Christendom by the persecutions of the Middle Ages. This section is known from Alexandria to Shanghai for its shipment of women."

CHEAP DANCE HALLS. The cheap dancing halls and moving picture shows of New York City are the recruiting ground for this infamous traffic and one of the principal sources of supply for the dealers. In referring to them the writer states:

"One class of men, for instance, no doubt dressed in the hero in a cook's romance, swindling unattractive and elderly working women out of their earnings by promising marriage, and borrowing money to start a shop. The acute horror among the Jews of the wife being an old maid makes swindling of Jewish women under promise of marriage especially easy."

"But the largest and most profitable field for exploitation of the girls of the East Side is procuring them for the white slave traffic. This line of swindling is in itself specialized. Formerly its chief recruiting grounds were the public amusement parks of the tenement districts; now for several years they have been the dance halls, and the work has been specialized very largely according to the character of the halls."

"The amusement of the poor girl of New York—especially the very poor girl—is dancing. On Saturdays and Sundays the whole East Side dances after night-fall, and every night in the week there are tens of thousands of dancers within the limits of the city of New York. The reason for this is simple; dancing is the one real amusement within the working girl's means. For five cents the moving picture show, the only competitor, gives half an hour's diversion and sends its audience to the street again; for five cents the cheaper 'dancing academies' of the East Side give a whole evening's pleasure. For the domestic servant and the poorer shop girl of the East Side there is practically no option, if she is to have any enjoyment of her youth; and not being able to dance is generally acknowledged source of mortification."

"Some of the boys are 'spies'—youths with a talent for dancing—who are admitted to each of the girls, and are given the proceeds of an occasional dance. The others pay a ten cent fee. The whole thing, catering to a class exceedingly poor, is on a most inexpensive scale. Even the five cent drink of beer is too costly to be handed out for profit. The height of luxurious indulgence from the treat at the one and two-cent soda stands on the sidewalk below the dance hall. Contrary to the common belief, intoxicating liquor plays but a small part in securing girls from this particular type of place."

The captain and crew of the German warship now in the harbor will be invited to attend the festival. The Lutheran churches throughout the city have cancelled their evening services in order to give their parishioners an opportunity to attend the celebration.

A feature of the program will be the singing of Luther's reformation hymn, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." A general invitation is extended to all Lutherans and their friends to attend. The exercises will begin at 3 p. m. The auditorium has a seating capacity of four thousand and is located on the corner of Page and Fillmore streets.
